

Native American Literature Unit Plan

In the Broward County Public Schools, we used The Language of Literature textbook series published by McDougal Littell prior to the new textbook adoption. The opening unit of the grade 11 textbook in that series contains the Native American stories "The World on the Turtle's Back," "Coyote and the Buffalo," and "Fox and Coyote and Whale." If you do not have access to the textbook, you will be able to find the stories online through the links below (or simply Google the titles and the word "text"). The links may not provide the exact texts as those that appear in the Littell textbook (some are abridged), but they are a good introduction to Native American storytelling.

Native American Literature Common Core Unit Plan:

Adopting the Song of Appearance: An Emotional Symphony within Native American Literature Common Core Unit Plan

In a world consumed by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of instant conversation, the melodic beauty and mental symphony created by the published term often diminish into the backdrop, eclipsed by the relentless sound and distractions that permeate our lives. However, located within the pages of Native American Literature Common Core Unit Plan a marvelous literary treasure full of raw emotions, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Crafted by a masterful musician of language, that interesting masterpiece conducts viewers on an emotional journey, skillfully unraveling the concealed tunes and profound impact resonating within each carefully constructed phrase. Within the depths of this touching review, we shall examine the book's key harmonies, analyze its enthralling writing style, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers' souls.
