

A romantic close-up of a Native American man and woman. The man, with long dark hair and a feather in it, is leaning towards the woman, who has her hand near her face. They are in a warm, intimate embrace, about to kiss. The lighting is soft and golden, creating a romantic atmosphere.

"Brilliant romance!"

When the Spirit Calls Edward J. Hedican, 2023-03-30 In January 1832 in the most southern part of Ontario's James Bay an elderly Cree man by the name of Quapakay was told by the spirits of the shaking tent that in order to survive the winter he was required to spoil the post at Hannah Bay a Hudson's Bay Company goose hunting station. Following the directions of the spirits Quapakay and his sons carried out this ill fated task resulting in the deaths of sixteen occupants of the Hannah Bay post. Now known as the Hannah Bay Massacre the victims included fur trader William Corrigan the postmaster and his wife and seven other Indigenous people. When the Spirit Calls explores the social cultural and historical context in which the Hannah Bay tragedy took place as gleaned from the Hudson Bay Company's archival records and elucidations by Cree oral traditions. The research is the culmination of over forty years of investigation by Edward J. Hedican in Indigenous communities from the mid 1970s to the present day. In the book Hedican aims to uncover the circumstances behaviours and attitudes that led to the slaughter. When the Spirit Calls sheds light on the racist attitudes held by the white settler population towards Indigenous people attitudes that were prevalent in our colonial past and that continue to this very day.
