Nature Writing Nature Writing:

The Oxford Book of Nature Writing Richard Mabey, 1995 Mabey has brought together a sampler of some of the greatest writings on nature ever penned. This collection contains passages from Aristotle and Aesop as well as excerpts from the great Romantic writers William Wordsworth and Samuel Coleridge. Writings by Charles Darwin, Henry David Thoreau and George Audubon are also featured.

Turning the Boat for Home Richard Mabey, 2019-10-03 One of our greatest nature writers, Guardian. For over fifty years, Richard Mabey has been a pioneering voice in modern nature writing. This book collects pieces across his rich career, tracing his continually evolving ideas as much as the profound changes in our environment. From the rediscovery of food foraging in the 1970s to reflections on the musicality of birdsong, these essays show Mabey's passionate belief that our planet is a commonwealth for all species and that our reconnection with the living world is more vital than ever.

Richard Mabey is among the best writers at work in Britain. Tim Dee Poised where nature meets culture, Mabey is knowledgeable, politically savvy and wry, and an excellent naturalist. New Statesman

Beyond Nature Writing Karla Armbruster, Kathleen R. Wallace, 2001 Ecocriticism, a field of study that has expanded dramatically over the past decade, has nevertheless remained until recently closely focused on critical analyses of nature writing and literature of wilderness. The authors push well beyond that established framework with this collection of essays by respected ecocritics and scholars from the literary and environmental arenas.

American Nature Writing 1994 John A. Murray, 1994 Inaugurating a new annual series devoted to selecting and presenting the best in contemporary American nature writing, this initial volume includes some of America's most distinguished nature writers as well as some promising new talents.

This first collection encompasses a variety of genres, including fiction, journal writing, poetry, personal essays, and feature articles. Readers will hunt for peregrine falcons near the Great Salt Lake with Terry Tempest Williams, sneak into Cuba with Bob Shacochis to observe the Ernest Hemingway International Classic Billfish Tournament, and explore the botanical and paleontological wonders of the Central American land bridge with David Rains Wallace. Also included are an excerpt from Annie Dillard's novel The Living and a previously unpublished selection from the journals of Edward Abbey.

At last, here is nature writing at its boisterous, gritty, and lyrical best. Nature writing is poised at the beginning of a period of wonderful exuberance. All of the excitement that attends the beginning of a new century and the start of a new millennium together with a growing awareness of the interdependence of nature and culture cannot help but fuel this historic genre. I believe that as the genre attracts more and more gifted young writers and addresses increasingly the compelling political and social issues of our time it will gain in stature and maturity offering what Barry Lopez so eloquently called a literature of hope John A Murray from the Introduction John A Murray is Assistant Professor of English at the University of Alaska Fairbanks and the author editor of eleven previous books including Wild Africa Three Centuries of Nature Writing from Africa Nature's New Voices The Great Bear Contemporary Writings on the Grizzly The Islands and the Sea and A Republic of Rivers

Nature Writing Don Scheese, 2013-10-28 In this comprehensive study of the genre Don Scheese traces its evolution from the pastoralism evident in the natural history observations of Aristotle and the poetry of Virgil to current American writers He documents the emergence of the modern form of nature writing as a reaction to industrialization Scheese's personal observations of natural settings sharpen the reader's understanding of the dynamics between author and locale His study is further informed by ample use of illustrations and close readings core writers such as Thoreau John Muir and Mary Austin showing how each writer's work exemplifies the pastoral tradition and celebrate a spirit of place in the United States
