The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages Lutz Marten, Ellen Hurst-Harosh, Nancy C. Kula, Jochen Zeller, 2025 This volume brings together leading scholars from the African continent and beyond to provide a detailed account of the languages of the Bantu family The book will be an essential resource for students and researchers specializing in the Bantu languages and for typologists and comparative linguists more broadly

Imagination and the Contemporary Novel John J. Su, 2011-05-26 Imagination and the Contemporary Novel examines the global preoccupation with the imagination among literary authors with ties to former colonies of the British Empire since the 1960s John Su draws on a wide range of authors including Peter Ackroyd Monica Ali Julian Barnes Andr Brink J M Coetzee John Fowles Amitav Ghosh Nadine Gordimer Hanif Kureishi Salman Rushdie and Zadie Smith This study rehabilitates the category of imagination in order to understand a broad range of contemporary Anglophone literature The responses of such literature to shifts in global capitalism have often been misunderstood by the dominant categories of literary studies the postmodern and the postcolonial As both an insightful critique into the themes that drive a range of today's best novelists and a bold restatement of what the imagination is and what it means for contemporary culture this book breaks new ground in the study of twenty first century literature

Reading the Fantastic Imagination Dana Percec, 2014-06-26 The purpose of Reading the Fantastic Imagination The Avatars of a Literary Genre is the observation of the very hybridity of the fantastic genre as a typical postmodern form The volume continues an older project of the editor and a large number of the contributors that of investigating the current status of several popular genres from historical fiction to romance The scrutiny continues in this third volume dedicated to the fantastic imagination and the plethora of themes moods media and formats deriving from it FanLit is surely trendy even if it is not highbrow despite its noble ancestry This apparent paradox characterizes many of the literary genres en vogue today from historical fiction to romance This very contradiction forms part of the basis for this book After the success of the previous book in the series dedicated to a borderline literary genre Romance The History of a Genre was declared by Cambridge Scholars Publishing as the Critics Choice Book of the Month in January 2013 this collection of studies about the fantastic imagination takes a further step into completing a larger research project which seeks to investigate the varieties of popular fiction Although all contributors in the series teach canonical literary texts they did not hesitate to plunge into the opposite area of fictional work and moreover continued doing so even though such a project caused the raise of a few high brows Percec 2012 232 as argued in the Endnote of Romance The History of a Genre

The Short Story after Apartheid Graham K. Riach, 2023-10-15 Honourable Mention in the 2023 British Association for Contemporary Literary Studies Monograph Prize The Short Story after Apartheid offers the first major study of the anglophone short story in South Africa since apartheid's end By focusing on the short story this book complicates models of South African literature dominated by the novel and contributes to a much needed generic and formalist turn in postcolonial studies Literary texts are sites of productive struggle between formal and extra formal concerns and these brief fragmentary elliptical formally innovative stories offer perspectives that reframe or revise important concerns of post apartheid literature the aesthetics of engaged writing the politics of the past class and race the legacies of violence and the struggle over the land Through an analysis of key texts from the period by Nadine Gordimer Ivan Vladislavi Zo Wicomb Phaswane Mpe and Henrietta Rose Innes this book assesses the place of the short story in post apartheid writing and develops a fuller model of how artworks allow and disallow forms of social thought

African Language Media Phillip Mpofu, Israel A. Fadipe, Thulani Tshabangu, 2023-03-13 This book outlines how African language media is affected by politics technology culture and the economy and how this media is creatively produced and appropriated by audiences across cultures and contexts African language media can be considered as a tool for communication socialization and community that defines the various identities of indigenous people in Africa This book shows how vernacular media outlets including radio and television as well as native formats such as festivals rituals and dance can be used to influence all facets of local peoples experience and understanding of community The book also explores the relationship between African language media sources and contemporary issues including the digitalization conundrum peace and conflict resolution identity formation hate speech and fake news Furthermore it shows how local media can be used for development communication purposes during health and environmental crises The book includes cases studies demonstrating the uses experiences and activities related to various forms of media available in African languages This book will be of interest to scholars in the field of communication and media studies health and environmental communication journalism African studies and anthropology

Standard Catalog for High School Libraries H.W. Wilson Company, 2002 Each vol is divided into 2 parts 1st 7th ed Dictionary catalog and Classified catalog 8th 9th ed have 3rd part Directory of publishers The African Book Publishing Record, 2002 Somewhere in the Double Rainbow Cheryl Stobie, 2007 Bisexuality has been explored in increasing numbers of South African novels published since 1994 In a society previously dominated by an either or mindset what does this development signify The innovative Somewhere in the Double Rainbow answers this question by examining a number of these novels in depth looking at South African literature the nation and citizenship in a new light Predicaments of Culture in South Africa Ashraf Jamal,2005 Symptomatic of an emergent shift away from prescriptive and deterministic accounts of change in South Africa Predicaments of culture in South Africa posits an open ended and speculative approach to the question and agency of culture The key question posed by Justice Albie Sachs of the Constitutional Court of South Africa what does it mean to be a South African is shifted from its familiar ontological and epistemological habitat what is identity the better to embrace its ethical and political rider what are identities for and its more pragmatic possibility what can identities do These qualifications Bhabha s form the building blocks that skew and enrich existing presumptions about South Africa s history its present moment and its future Jamal challenges and qualifies the conflicting and contiguous drives of fatalism positivism and relativism which are the dominant claimants upon the South African cultural imaginary It is this critical non positionality that forms the distinctive trait of an inquiry which in eschewing allegiance and closure opens up the debate about what it means to be South African and the role of culture therein In hindsight and with the hither side of the future before us Jamal s driving assumption is that world society is advancing towards yet another age of ignorance an age beyond suspicion and irony in which thought whether self critical or not is no longer the agent of reason Jamal calls for an urgent reappraisal of the absence of love of lovelessness which he sees as the infected root of South Africa s inability to create a positively affirmative cultural imaginary
