Party Politics and Economic Reform in Africa's Democracies M. Anne Pitcher, 2012 In Party Politics and Economic Reform in Africa's Democracies M Anne Pitcher offers an engaging new theory to explain the different trajectories of private sector development across contemporary Africa Pitcher argues that the outcomes of economic reforms depend not only on the kinds of institutional arrangements adopted by states in order to create or expand their private sectors but also on the nature of party system competition and the quality of democracy in particular countries To illustrate her claim Pitcher draws on several original datasets covering twenty seven countries in Africa and detailed case studies of the privatization process in Zambia Mozambique and South Africa This study underscores the importance of formal institutions and political context to the design and outcome of economic policies in developing countries Provided by publisher Party Politics and Economic Reform in Africa's Democracies Assistant Professor of Political Science M Anne Pitcher, 2014-05-14 Argues that the interaction of formal institutions and the quality of democracy explain patterns of private sector development across Africa

Anne Pitcher, 2012-05-07 Argues that the interaction of formal institutions and the quality of democracy explain patterns of private sector development across Africa Economic Crisis, Civil Society, and Democratization Julius Omozuanvbo Ihonvbere, 1996 The first major book on post UNIP Zambia chronicles the efforts of the movement for Multiparty Democracy MMD Democracy and Democratization in Africa, 1993

Closing the Circle Richard Sandbrook, 2000 It is a truism that many African countries face a three pronged tribulation political tyranny failed capitalist development and violent domestic conflict The relationship between effective democratic institutions successful development and civil peace is less clear This book analyzes the experience with democratization of a carefully selected sample of countries Ghana Mali and Niger in West Africa Zambia Tanzania and Madagascar in East Africa and Sudan Democratization in Africa Larry Diamond, Marc F. Plattner, 2010-03-29 Weiss

Michael Bratton, Robert Mattes, E. Gyimah-Boadi, 2005 This book is a groundbreaking exploration of public opinion in sub Saharan Africa Based on the Afrobarometer a survey research project it reveals what ordinary Africans think about democracy and market reforms subjects on which almost nothing is otherwise known The authors find that support for democracy in Africa is wide but shallow and that Africans feel trapped between state and market While Africans are learning about reform on the basis of knowledge reasoning and experience few countries are likely to attain full fledged democracies and markets anytime soon Two Countries One Dream Rok Ajulu, 2009 African Journal of Political Science, 2003

Democratic Reform in Africa Muna Ndulo, 2006 Examines the interrelationship between governance and poverty alleviation in Africa and the impact of democratic reform on this relationship This book assesses what progress if any Africa has made in addressing the need for the consolidation of democratic reform and the resolution of considerable developmental challenges The Feasibility of Democracy in Africa Claude Ake, 2000 The book outlines in a sweeping continental survey and with telling detail how the democratic commitment has transformed Africa's legacy of dictatorship military regimes and single party rule Yet at the same time as we are all democrats now Ake shows how cleverly conservative autocrats have stolen the democratic message and subverted its promise The danger of trivializing democracy into successive multi party elections where one narrow elite succeeds another is a real one in present day Africa and the book spells out the hazards that lie ahead for nascent democratic movements at the grassroots Between the Theory and Practice of Democracy in Nigeria

Elochukwu C. Amucheazi, Okechukwu Ibeanu, 2008 Obasanjo's first term in office as a civilian president 1999 2003 was a major litmus test for the future of Nigeria's fledgling democracy Set in a critical conjuncture characterized by high popular expectations and international goodwill on the one hand and weak institutions and deep seated social cleavages exacerbated by years of military rule on the other the new civilian governments at the Federal and State levels were expected to quickly deliver the dividends of democracy to prevent an authoritarian throwback The expectations included a quick improvement in social service delivery ending egregious human rights violations of the military era improving infrastructure strengthening institutions of governance and creating jobs But how did the Obasanjo regime fare in meeting the citizens expectations in its first term in office What were the challenges faced by practitioners in all the branches and levels of government in achieving their electoral promises and public expectations And how did they respond to those challenges In this book some of Nigeria's leading academics dialogue with politicians who hold or have held key political positions including Governor Ibrahim Idris of Kogi State former state governors Orji Kalu Sam Egwu and Chris Ngige as well as other key political practitioners to find answers to some of the above questions The contributors address numerous thorny issues in Nigerian politics and governance including federalism and presidentialism elections and the electoral process the judiciary and courts parties and the party system the economy as well as foreign policy Specifically they address the issues of executive legislative relations executive judiciary relations party government relations Federal and State relations and the relations between President Obasanjo and State Governors that he regarded as recalcitrant The book is unique in that it departs from the conventional academic balance sheet approach of matching popular expectations against government's service delivery to actually incorporate the views and experiences of the practitioners in the field This is done not for self justificatory purposes but to genuinely articulate and perspectivise the challenges the practitioners faced and their own efforts at coping with such challenges _____
