

CHILDREN'S WEEK 2025

18-26 OCTOBER

THEME: EVERYONE SHOULD KNOW ABOUT CHILDREN'S RIGHTS.
BASED ON ARTICLE 42 OF UNCRC

Artwork by Primary Student (Presentation on UNCRC 'Australia Rights') - 10 Senior Secondary schools students. This drawing is about children's rights and how society can protect them. They showed the樸ess of learning, the樸ess of family, a person's right and the right they need to be protected, the right to have a say in their culture. They want what has been mentioned to - always work in the interest of every child's basic rights.

Children's Rights Wouter Vandenhove, Gamze Erdem Türkelli, Sara Lembrechts, 2019 This Commentary is a fully up to date solid legal work on children's rights. It offers a contemporary legal perspective on the inherently interdisciplinary field of children's rights. It responds to the scarcity of legal commentaries in a landscape where several handbooks covering different disciplines have been published in recent years. It is succinct and seeks to capture the essence yet offers a sophisticated analysis of children's rights law and branches out into other disciplines where relevant in light of the recent legal and social developments

Safeguarding, Child Protection and Abuse in Sport Melanie Lang, Mike Hartill, 2014-07-11 The safeguarding of children and young people participating in sport has become an increasingly prominent concern in policy making and research communities around the world. Major organisations such as the IOC and UNICEF now officially recognize that children in sport can be at risk of exploitation and abuse and this concern has led to the emergence of new initiatives and policies aimed at protecting vulnerable young people and athletes. This book is the first to comprehensively review contemporary developments in child protection and safeguarding in sport on a global level. The book is divided into two parts. Part One critically analyses current child protection and safeguarding policy and practice in sport across a range of countries including the US, Canada, the UK, Australia, China and Germany, providing a global context for current policy and practice. This represents the most comprehensive review to date of the landscape of child protection and safeguarding in sport and provides a starting point for critical international comparisons. Part Two explores a range of issues related to child protection and safeguarding in sport, including many not covered in previous books such as emotional abuse, injury and over-training. While in many instances the impetus for policy in this area has arisen from concerns about sexual abuse, the second part of this book therefore opens up a broader, more holistic approach to child and athlete welfare. By bringing together many of the leading researchers working in child and athlete protection in sport from around the world, this book is an important reading for all advanced students, researchers, policy makers or practitioners working in youth sport, physical education, sports coaching, coach education or child protection.
