Innovation and New Product Planning Kenneth B. Kahn, Mayoor Mohan, 2020-12-28 This practical book introduces readers to the essential business aspects of innovation and new product planning. The product planning process is discussed across two broad themes: product development and product management. Importantly, the book emphasizes the 21st century strategic and creative mindset necessary to drive business innovation activities in a concise yet comprehensive manner. The book delves into the front end of innovation and formal product development activities, examining the topics of opportunity identification, concept generation and evaluation, technical development, product design, testing, launch strategies, product management, life cycle management, brand management, and vital elements for international success. There are stand-alone notes that serve to apprise readers on related topics such as the use of agile product development methodologies, the formation of business entities, and recommended best practices for new product development. The book excels at providing relevant examples and applied tools that augment the concepts to offer valuable connections to real-world product planning efforts. This book is particularly useful as a guide to learning the fundamental concepts and strategies associated with innovation and new product planning. Among student audiences, upper-level undergraduate and first-year graduate students are likely to benefit as the book embraces its position to serve as a primer on product development and management. The Four Competitive Business Drivers Jorge Sá, Magda Pereira, 2026-01-13 Sometimes management books achieve a clear-cut distinction between strategy and tactics. Seldom do they include the business model as a third competitiveness driver. And never so far has the theory of business been considered as a fourth required performance vector different from all other three. However, organizational optimization requires all four: the why, where, what, and how. The theory of business: Drucker is the why (the company makes sense); The reality assumptions: the organization is grounded upon what it is paid for; The business model: Porter is the what (the basic pillars of a firm's organization); How it transforms client satisfaction into value for itself: Strategy Joffe is the where (the choice of 1 geographical area, 2 industries, and 3 within them of segments). And tactics is the how (respecting to the nine functional areas from marketing to human resources to how to advertise, how to motivate, etc.). Four inferences follow: All four drivers are necessary conditions, none sufficient. They interrelate, some impacting on others. They must fit, reinforcing each other, and they should be periodically reviewed under a sequence of steps. This is illustrated by the book's detailed examples of e.g. Nike, Dollar Shave Club, Spotify, SpaceX, Vend me, Sears, IBM, Apple, Music, McDonald's, Marks & Spencer, Canva, SolarCity, Farfetch, etc. The fundamental message is that neglect of any of the four drivers brings inefficiency, doing things right at the cost of lower effectiveness, doing the right things the Chokhmah of Solomon. With more and more resources producing less and less underperformance will follow. Billboard, 2009-10-17
