Stem Kits How To:

How to STEM Carol Smallwood, Vera Gubnitskaia, 2013-12-05 During the past few years groups like the President's Council of Advisors on Science and Technology Center for Education have been placing great emphasis on the significance of STEM science technology engineering and math education In brief the US is seen as falling behind the rest of the world in science and technology education In response the curricula have been revised in many educational institutions and school districts across the country It is clear that for STEM to be successful other community organizations most particularly libraries need to be closely involved in the process Library staff realize the importance of getting involved in STEM education but many have difficulty finding comprehensive information that will help them plan and successfully implement STEM direction in their organization This book is designed to meet that need It is timely and relevant How to STEM Science Technology Engineering and Math Education in Libraries is by and for libraries who are involved in contributing efforts into advancing these subjects It is organized in 9 parts including funding grant writing community partnerships outreach research and examples of specific programming activities Authors are drawn from the professional staffs of educational institutions libraries and non profit organizations such as science museums The book contains eight parts each emphasizing a different aspect of how to succeed with STEM Part 1 emphasizes how hands on activities that are both fun and educational can be used to further STEM awareness Parts 2 and 3 contain chapters on the uniting of STEM with Information Literacy Innovative collection development ideas are discussed in Part 4 and Part 5 focuses on research and publishing Outreach is the theme of Part 6 and the programs described in these chapters offer an array of ways to connect with students of all ages The final section of How to STEM Science Technology Engineering and Math Education in Libraries addresses the funding of these programs Librarians of all types will be pleased to discover easy to implement suggestions for collaborative efforts many rich and diverse programming ideas strategies for improving reference services and library instruction to speakers of English as a second language marketing and promotional tips designed to welcome multicultural patrons into the library and much more

Informal STEM Learning at Home and in Community Spaces Bradley Morris, Brenna Hassinger-Das, Rachael Todaro, Jennifer DeWitt, 2024-03-22 Children in Western countries spend only about 20% of their waking time in school Meltzoff et al 2009 Leveraging the 80% of time that they spend outside of school can provide children with opportunities to engage in meaningful authentic STEM learning experiences with family members other caregivers and children STEM learning and readiness go beyond acquiring content knowledge to include interest engagement and motivation for STEM learning as well as the formation of a STEM identity To date there has been a dearth of research focusing on children's informal STEM experiences when compared to formal school based STEM learning experiences This Research Topic focuses attention on the authentic everyday experiences of children and how these experiences provide opportunities for STEM learning engagement and identity In addition these papers will explore how these everyday experiences can be leveraged and augmented to promote STEM learning and engagement through culturally relevant design and implementation

Communicating Science to the Public Leo Tan Wee Hin, R. Subramaniam, 2014-07-24 This book explores effective approaches for communicating science to the public in developing countries Offering multiple perspectives on this important topic it features 17 chapters that represent the efforts of 23 authors from eight countries Australia Bangladesh India Ireland New Zealand USA Singapore and South Africa Inside readers will find a diversity of approaches to communicate science to the public The book also highlights some of the challenges that science communicators science policy makers science teachers university academics in the sciences and even entrepreneurs may face in their attempts to boost science literacy levels in their countries In addition it shares several best practices from the developed world that may help readers create communication initiatives that can lead to increased engagement with science in communities in the Asia Pacific region and beyond Given the pervasive influence of science and technology in today's society their impact will only increase in the years to come as the world becomes more globalized and the economies of countries become more inter linked This book will be a useful source of reference for developing countries looking to tap into the potential of science for nation building and effectively engage their communities to better understand science and technology Supported by the Pacific Science Association Hawaii
