

JANUARY ... DOES IT BRING YOU JOY?

- 1 January is the time for renewal on many fronts. It's the time of the year to re-evaluate everything. If something or someone doesn't bring you joy, it's pretty pointless carrying on with it. If we want the best, we must do our best. We must keep our family space safe and secure so that we are thriving as a people and as a nation. 5
- 2 In order to live their best lives, people are spreading themselves thinner and thinner with multiple streams of income. In the process we earn more but live less, we lose our focus of what is important.
- 3 With social media, keeping up with other Instagrammers are having a devastating effect on self-perception. Everything appears to be real perfect, but the fabric of our society is frazzled. Use January to take stock and start navigating new ways of doing things. Instead of multiple streams of sole sessions, travel more, and connect with people and places that bring you joy. 10

Modulators of hypothalamic-pituitary-gonadal axis for the control of spermatogenesis and sperm quality in vertebrates Gilda Cobellis, SILVIA FASANO, Riccardo Pierantoni, Rosaria Meccariello, 2014-12-01 Spermatogenesis is a process highly conserved throughout vertebrate species and is mainly under hypothalamic pituitary control. It occurs in the testis in a stepwise fashion so that committed spermatogonia develop into spermatocytes and enter meiosis to produce round spermatids. These undergo a morphological transformation spermiogenesis into mature spermatids i.e. spermatozoa which are differentially released from Sertoli cells spermiation depending on the species. In mammals further transformations are necessary to form mature spermatozoa suitable for fertilization. Gonadotropins mainly responsive to gonadotropin releasing hormone control spermatogenesis through specific receptors located at the gonadal level. However besides the endocrine route the chemical mediators may also act locally in the gonad. Indeed it is documented that testis physiology including steroidogenesis and spermatogenesis does not fully account for traditional endocrine control but an intragonadal network of autocrine and/or paracrine regulators also exists whose activity via cell to cell communication regulates germ cell progression and development of qualitatively mature spermatozoa. Of note a number of testicular modulators such as gonadotropin releasing hormone Kiss peptin endocannabinoids has been early isolated in the brain and latest in the gonads. To fully understand precise mechanisms underlying the functional interaction of this intricate network needless to say it is crucially required to have detailed information about modulators and target cells. Through synergy between the respective specializations of all the authors this topic reviewed emerging knowledge about neuroendocrine and local mediators controlling germ cell progression and maturation. Grappling with the Multifaceted World of the DNA Damage Response Antonio Porro, 2017-01-10 DNA damage is a major threat to genomic integrity and cell survival. It can arise both spontaneously and in response to exogenous agents. DNA damage can attack most parts of the DNA structure ranging from minor and major chemical modifications to single strand breaks (SSBs) and gaps to full double strand breaks (DSBs). If DNA injuries are mis-repaired or unrepaired they may ultimately result in mutations or wider scale genome aberrations that threaten cell homeostasis. Consequently the cells elicit an elaborate signalling network known as DNA damage response (DDR) to detect and repair these cytotoxic lesions. This Research Topic was aimed at comprehensive investigations of basic and novel mechanisms that underlie the DNA damage response in eukaryotes. MEI.
