Medieval Italy Texts In Translation The Middle Ages Series:

Medieval Italy Katherine Jansen, Joanna Drell, Frances Andrews, 2009 Medieval Italy Texts in Translation gathers together for the first time in one volume newly translated primary sources critical to the study of the Italian Middle Ages ca 1000 1400 C E What makes this volume unique too is its incorporation of the southern part of the peninsula and Sicily into a larger narrative of Italian history Italian Literature Before 1900 in English Translation Robin Healey, 2011-01-01 Italian Literature before 1900 in English Translation provides the most complete record possible of texts from the early periods that have been translated into English and published between 1929 and 2008 It lists works from all genres and subjects and includes translations wherever they have appeared across the globe In this annotated bibliography Robin Healey covers over 5 200 distinct editions of pre 1900 Italian writings Most entries are accompanied by useful notes providing information on authors works translators and how the translations were received Among the works by over 1 500 authors represented in this volume are hundreds of editions by Italy's most translated authors Dante Alighieri Niccol o Machiavelli and Giovanni Boccaccio and other hundreds which represent the author's only English translation A significant number of entries describe works originally published in Latin Together with Healey's Twentieth Century Italian Literature in English Translation this volume makes comprehensive information on translations accessible for schools libraries and those interested in comparative literature Pub desc The Translation of Religious Texts in the Middle Ages Domenico Pezzini, 2008 The transition from Latin to vernacular languages in the late Middle Ages and the dramatic rise of a new readership produced a huge bulk of translations particularly of religious literature in its various genres The solutions are so multifarious that they defy any attempt to outline general theories This is particularly visible when the same text is translated or rewritten at different times and in different languages or genres Through a minute analysis of texts this book aims at highlighting lexical syntactic and stylistic choices dictated not only by the source but also by new readers and patrons or by new destinations of the works Established categories such as literalness and fidelity are thus questioned and integrated with these other factors which while being more external do nonetheless impinge on the very idea of translation and consequently on its assessment Far from being a mere transfer from one language to another a medieval translation verges on a form of creative writing and as such its study becomes a fascinating investigation into the very process of textual production Rethinking Norman Italy Joanna H. Drell, Paul Oldfield, 2021-06-15 This volume on Norman Italy southern Italy and Sicily c 1000 1200 honours and reflects the pioneering scholarship of Graham A Loud An international group of scholars reassesses and recasts the paradigm by which Norman Italy has been conventionally understood addressing varied subjects across four key themes historiographies identities and communities religion and Church and conquest The chapters revise and refine our understanding of Norman Italy in the eleventh and twelfth centuries demonstrating that it was not just a parochial Norman or Mediterranean entity but also an integral player in the medieval mainstream Women in the Middle Ages: A-J

Encyclopedia of Literary Translation Into English: A-L O. Classe, 2000 Translating the Middle Ages Dr Charles D Wright, Dr Karen L Fresco, 2013-01-28 Drawing on approaches from literary studies history linguistics and art history and ranging from Late Antiquity to the sixteenth century this collection views translation broadly as the adaptation and transmission of cultural inheritance The essays explore translation in a variety of sources from manuscript to print culture and the creation of lexical databases Several essays look at the practice of textual translation across languages including the vernacularization of Latin literature in England France and Italy the translation of Greek and Hebrew scientific terms into Arabic and the use of Hebrew terms in anti Jewish and anti Muslim polemics Other essays examine medieval translators views and performance of translation looking at Lydgate s translation of Greek myths through mental images rendered through rhetorical figures or at how printing transformed the rhetoric of intervernacular translation of chivalric romances This collection also demonstrates translation as a key element in the construction of cultural and political identity in the Fest des Romains and Chester Whitsun Plays and in the papacy s efforts to compete with Byzantium by controlling the translation of Greek writings

the artistic and social lives of the inhabitants shows how these towns were the seedbed of the cultural achievements of the early Renaissance The Bibliography has been updated to a list of Further Reading with the latest scholarship for students to continue their studies Both students and the general reader interested in Italian history literature and art will find this accessible book a rewarding and fascinating read     General Catalogue of the Books Except Fiction, French, and German, in the Public Library of Detroit, Mich Detroit Public Library,1899     Books for College Libraries: History Association of College and Research Libraries,1988 This third edition lists 50 000 titles that form the foundation of an undergraduate library s collection     Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory Carolyn Farquhar Ulrich,1999     Collier's Encyclopedia Frank Webster Price,1950
