Continuous Glucose Monitoring: Beyond Diabetes Management Ma Jianhua, Gang Hu, Jianzhong Xiao, 2025-09-29

Continuous glucose monitoring CGM is considered as a new tool for diabetes management. Due to the improved accuracy and reliability, its applications have grown. CGM provides us with an approach for getting insight into blood glucose profiles. Time in range (TIR), time above range (TAR), and time below range (TBR) become new targets for diabetes care. It helps to optimize the treatment regimen by preventing glucose fluctuation, especially hypoglycemia. In this context, a lot of studies have been done, and many research papers have been published. As we know, blood glucose fluctuates during the day, not only in patients with diabetes but also in other situations. The fluctuation reflects the balance of disposition of glucose, i.e., the appearance of glucose from gut, liver, and other glucogenesis tissues, and the utilization of glucose. These processes are related to diverse mechanisms and physiological and pathophysiological events. As a result, CGM could be used in nutrition consultation, intensive care, prediabetes management, perioperative care, insulinoma, and other diseases related to glucose metabolism. In the discovery of new drugs, CGM could be used in animal studies to present a tool to find dynamic glucose metabolism.

The Role of Inflammation and Immune Control in Digestive Disease and Therapeutic Approaches Shuai Wang, Liu Changhui, Zhenhua Li, Wenyi Gu, 2025-05-29. Digestive system diseases, including gastroenteritis, irritable bowel syndrome, Crohn's disease, ulcerative colitis, hepatitis, and pancreatitis, present as a common disease that affects millions of people worldwide. The pathogenesis of these diseases remains as a complex context involving multiple factors such as genetics, environment, lifestyle, microbiome, and immune system. Recently, multi-omics analysis strategies raised much concern about the proximal and distal cross-talks between immunocytes and tissue-specific cell types. Methods for the diagnosis, treatment, and prognosis of digestive diseases related to immunity, such as stem cell therapies, small molecule chemical drugs, biologics, and phytochemicals, have been successively developed and applied. However, the specific functions and related mechanisms of immune cells, such as T cells, B cells, macrophages, and other immune cells in digestive diseases, still need further exploration. Thus, investigating the potential and promising immunomodulatory targets would help us uncover the initiation and development of molecular events of immune disorders in digestive system diseases, which in turn would promote their prevention and treatment. The goal of this Research Topic is to provide a forum to advance research on the comprehensive understanding of immune regulatory mechanisms and the role of abnormal mechanisms in the occurrence and development of digestive diseases, as well as to explore innovative immune-oriented drugs or treatment interventions in the attempt to achieve a beneficial impact on the diagnosis, prevention, therapy, and prognosis of digestive diseases. Bullet points are as below: 1. The specific functions and clinical significance of immune cells, e.g., T cells, B cells, macrophages, and other immune cells, etc., in digestive diseases. 2. The mechanism of immune cells participate in inflammatory reactions and tissue damage in digestive diseases. 3. The mechanism of regulators affecting the inflammatory response of the digestive system, e.g., nuclear receptor membrane receptor pathway etc 4 The role of small molecules in digestive diseases e g cytokines chemical factors anti inflammatory agents immune regulatory molecules etc 5 Development of novel anti inflammatory and immunomodulatory drugs for digestive diseases Bibliometric studies are outside of the scope of this section and may be rejected or redirected to other journals sections as appropriate Bioinformatics or Computational Analysis of public genome or transcriptome databases need to be accompanied by robust and relevant validation to be submitted to this section
