Carefree California: Cliff May and the Romance of the Ranch House Nicholas Olsberg, Jocelyn Gibbs, 2012-09-04 This landmark volume is an authoritative richly illustrated examination of the origins evolution and influence of the California ranch house Carefree California looks at a legendary figure in Southern California design Cliff May and the ubiquitous domestic icon his name evokes the ranch house We also see how other architects from George Washington Smith to Rudolph Schindler pursued different paths toward the same kind of relaxed domesticity exemplified by the ranch house By the late 50s much of the world was fascinated with California living and with the ranch house in particular which derived from architects evocation and reworking of distinctive regional traditions allied with the pervasive romance and myths of the California frontier and from the cultivation of a domestic architecture that could serve distinctively Californian ways of carefree living By uncovering patterns for living that suited the automobile age among the almost archaic forms and rhythms of mission and pioneer dwellings an extraordinary range of modernism emerged that was at once grounded in history and soaring into the space age

Cranbrook Architecture Gretchen Wilkins, 2023-05-08 Guest edited by Gretchen Wilkins The renowned Cranbrook Academy of Art near Detroit Michigan has been described as the epicentre of American Modernism When it opened in 1932 it combined a stunning Eliel Saarinen designed campus with a radically open educational philosophy to attract and produce some of the most influential artists designers and architects in US history including Charles and Ray Eames Fumihiko Maki Florence Knoll and Edmund Bacon Often compared to other experimental schools such as the Bauhaus Black Mountain College and Taliesin Cranbrook's sustained purpose has been advancing a wide interdisciplinary latitude and self directed design research to expand and diversify its approaches to architectural practice There is a deep and persistent idea that open and experimental acts of making should define pedagogy and by extension that education should shape practice not the other way around Cranbrook's rigorous defiance of dogma and loose grip on the disciplines enables an educational model that combines the practices of art design making and urbanism In this issue alumni faculty and scholars reflect on Cranbrook's model in light of contemporary and challenging questions in architectural education practice and the profession Contributors Kevin Adkisson Emily Baker Peggy Deamer Pia Ednie Brown Ronit Eisenbach Dan Hoffman Yu Chih Hsiao Peter Lynch Bill Massie Hani Rashid Jesse Reiser Lois Weinthal and Tod Williams Featured architects Asymptote Architecture Building Culture PLA Reiser Umemoto RUR Studio Libeskind and Tod Williams Billie Tsien

Ante Bellum Houses of the Bluegrass Clay Lancaster, 2014-07-15 The ante bellum homes of Lexington and Fayette County Kentucky are both more numerous and more distinctive in design than those of many communities of similar age Founded in 1775 Lexington by the turn of the century had become the chief cultural center north of New Orleans and west of the Alleghenies During the eight decades between the Revolution and the Civil War Fayette County was the focus of converging streams of immigration and a phenomenal amount of building activity took place in Lexington and the surrounding area Although local builders followed the trends of national architecture they were not primarily concerned with correctness and developed a provincial style which was distinguished by originality and a high level of craftsmanship In Ante Bellum Houses of the Bluegrass Clay Lancaster seeks to define the indigenous character of Fayette County building which he concludes is of unusually distinguished quality A second aim is the presentation of authentic data as a guide for intelligent restoration of existing old buildings many of which have been defaced by unnecessary changes and inappropriate additions He traces the development of house building in this restricted area from the first crude log cabins through frame stone and early brick residences to the substantial homes built by wealthy landowners and merchants in the mid nineteenth century The text is supplemented by 200 line drawings which present the essential features of each building free from the later alterations and decay which would be recorded by the camera These illustrations have been compiled on the basis of intensive research from old photographs maps drawings and other records An album of halftone illustrations many of which are reproductions of old photographs of buildings which have been altered or demolished supplements these illustrations
