Unapologetic John W. Loftus, 2016-11-01 A forceful takedown of faith based reasoning in secular institutions. Just as intelligent design is not a legitimate branch of biology in public educational institutions nor should the philosophy of religion be a legitimate branch of philosophy argues acclaimed author John W. Loftus. In his call for ending the philosophy of religion he argues that as it is presently being practiced the main reason the discipline exists is to serve the faith claims of Christianity. Most of philosophy of religion has become little more than an effort to defend and rationalize preexisting Christian beliefs. By highlighting the stark differences between faith based reasoning and evidence based reasoning Loftus presents vital arguments and lessons about the importance of critical thinking not only in all aspects of study but also in life. His conclusions and recommendations thus resonate far beyond the ivory towers and ivy covered walls of academic institutions. For atheists, secular individuals and those interested in critical thinking about religion.

Acquiring Sociolinguistic Variation Gunther De Vogelaer, Matthias Katerbow, 2017-09-30 The study of how linguistic variation is acquired is considered a nascent field in both psycho and sociolinguistics. Within that research context this book aims at two objectives. First it wants to help bridging the gap between researchers working on acquisition from different theoretical backgrounds. The book therefore includes contributions by both psycho and sociolinguists and by representatives of further relevant sub disciplines of linguistics including historical linguistics and dialectology. Second in order to enable cross linguistic comparison the book brings together research carried out in different sociolinguistic constellations as most obviously found in different language areas or different countries.
