Healthy Aging Recipes Today:

Healthy Aging Ping-Chung Leung, 2010 Recent advances in modern medicine have contributed to a longer lifespan for human beings. However, this does not directly translate to healthy living. Modern medicine's major success lies in specifically targeting orientated pathologies. It, however, does not promise healthy longevity. Healthy longevity requires an absence of life-threatening diseases and maintenance of good quality of life. Oriental medicine emphasizes on the promotion of physiological balance and internal harmony which are integral for longevity in life. This book defines aging approaching from the perspective of the frontier bioscientist as well as that of the traditional practitioner. On the international front, Oriental practices are extensively recommended including herbal supplements and specific training exercises. This book, compiled with the aim of offering solutions to healthy aging, provides an excellent reference for both the elderly and their carers. A glossary, suggested reading list, references, resource directory are also provided. Nutrition and Functional Foods for Healthy Aging Ronald Ross Watson, 2017-02-01 Nutrition and Functional Foods for Healthy Aging aims to equip anyone studying geriatric nutrition or working with aging adults with the latest scientific reviews of critical topics. The major objective of this book is to review in detail the health problems of the aged and how normal food, lifestyle, or nutritional and dietary supplements can help treat them. Nutrient requirements for optimum health and function of aging physiological systems are often quite distinct from those required for young people. The special nutrition problems of the aged are intensively researched and tested, especially as the elderly become a larger percentage of the population. Many chronic diseases and cancers are found with higher frequency in the aged, and it is also widely known that many elderly people use foods and nutrients well above the recommended daily allowance which can be detrimental to optimal health Explains the evidence supporting nutritional interventions relevant to age related diseases Reviews the macro and micro nutrient requirements of aging adults and their variables Describes how alcohol drugs and caffeine can impact deficiencies also exploring functional food and dietary supplements that can be used for prevention and treatment Toward Healthy Aging Priscilla Ebersole,Patricia A.
