On Looking Eleven Walks With Expert Eyes:

On Looking Alexandra Horowitz, 2013 Alexandra Horowitz's brilliant On Looking: Eleven Walks with Expert Eyes shows us how to see the spectacle of the ordinary to practice as Sir Arthur Conan Doyle put it the observation of trifles. It is structured around a series of eleven walks the author takes with experts on a diverse range of subjects including an urban sociologist a well known artist a geologist a physician and a sound designer. She also walks with a child and a dog to see the world as they perceive it. What they see and how they see it reveals the startling power of human attention and the cognitive aspects of what it means to be an expert observer. Alexandra Horowitz is charmingly adept at explaining the mysteries of human perception as she discovers a feast of fascinating detail all explained with her generous humor and self-deprecating tone. On Looking confirms Alexandra Horowitz's place as one of today's most illuminating observers of our infinitely complex world.

Competing on Talent in Today's Business World Pradeep Sahay, 2018-07-26 It is currently an exciting time for organizations with regard to the recruitment of talent. The business and organizational pressures for finding and hiring the best people could not be greater. Recruitment has not changed as a process a vacancy still needs a suitable hire. However the landscape tools technologies behaviors and expectations regarding how an organization approaches sourcing and acquiring talent are changing rapidly. This book chronicles one organization's journey as it goes about reorienting the focus of its talent acquisition capability from the current reactive process to a strategic and proactive program capable of consistently sourcing and recruiting the very best people available. Forward-looking companies are seizing this opportunity to create a true competitive advantage in talent sourcing and acquisition. They are focusing on fine tuning the fundamentals while devoting increased time and planning to the more strategic areas of talent acquisition including workforce planning and strategic sourcing. Their best in class approaches elevate recruitment from a transactional short term focused activity to a strategic integrated long term approach that optimizes their investments in people. This book articulates both the challenges and the response options that confront organizations as they compete for talent in this fast changing business climate. The initial sections here provide a macro view on the changing work landscape and how recent trends and developments around technology and innovation are impacting the discipline of Talent Acquisition. The book is designed as a running case study profiling the best practices in recruiting. Drawing on both primary and secondary research it adapts and learns from the best practices of high impact business functions such as a lean supply chain analytics process reengineering sales and marketing and discusses the leading academics and practitioners in this regard. As such this book will elevate awareness and discourse on the topic and will help concretize a roadmap for organizations looking to revisit and reinvent their talent acquisition philosophies and practices as they compete for talent in today's world.

Walking Through Social Research Charlotte Bates, Alex Rhys-Taylor, 2017-04-11 As an ethnographic method walking has a long history but it has only recently begun to attract focused attention. By walking alongside participants researchers have been able to observe experience and make sense of a broad range of everyday practices At the same time the idea of talking and walking with participants has enabled research to be informed by the landscapes in which it takes place By sharing conversations in place and at the participants pace sociologists are beginning to develop both a feel for and a theoretical understanding of the transient embodied and multisensual aspects of walking The result as this collection demonstrates is an understanding of the social world evermore congruent with people s lived experiences of it This interdisciplinary collection comprises a unique journey through a variety of walking methodologies The collection highlights a range of possibilities for enfolding sound smell emotion movement and memory into our accounts illustrating the sensuousness skill pitfalls and rewards of walking as a research practice Each chapter draws on original empirical research to present ways of walking and to discuss the conceptual practical and technical issues that walking entails Alongside feet on the ground the devices and technologies that make up hybrid research mobilities are brought to attention The collection is bookended by two short pedestrian essays that take the reader on illustrative urban walks suggesting routes through the city as well as ways in which the reader might make their own path through walking methods An innovative title Walking Through Social Research will be of interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students researchers and academics who are interested in Sociology Geography Cultural Studies Urban Studies and Qualitative Research Methods
