Pair Blue Eyes Thomas Hardy:

A Pair of Blue Eyes Thomas Hardy, 2019-03-25 Elfride Swancourt was a girl whose emotions lay very near the surface. Their nature more precisely and as modified by the creeping hours of time was known only to those who watched the circumstances of her history. Personally she was the combination of very interesting particulars whose rarity however lay in the combination itself rather than in the individual elements combined. As a matter of fact you did not see the form and substance of her features when conversing with her and this charming power of preventing a material study of her lineaments by an interlocutor originated not in the cloaking effect of a well formed manner for her manner was childish and scarcely formed but in the attractive crudeness of the remarks themselves. She had lived all her life in retirement the monstrous gigito of idle men had not flattered her and at the age of nineteen or twenty she was no further on in social consciousness than an urban young lady of fifteen. One point in her however you did notice that was her eyes. In them was seen a sublimation of all of her it was not necessary to look further there she lived. A Pair of Blue Eyes Thomas

A Pair of Blue Eyes (Illustrated) Thomas Hardy, 2020-06-29 A Pair of Blue Eyes is a novel by Thomas Hardy published in 1873 first serialised between September 1872 and July 1873. It was Hardy's third published novel and the first not published anonymously upon its first publication. The book describes the love triangle of a young woman Elfride Swancourt and her two suitors from very different backgrounds. Stephen Smith is a socially inferior but ambitious young man who adores her and with whom she shares a country background. Henry Knight is the respectable established older man who represents London society. Although the two are friends Knight is not aware of Smith's previous liaison with Elfride. Elfride finds herself caught in a battle with her heart, her mind and the expectations of those around her: her parents and society. When Elfride's father finds that his guest and candidate for his daughter's hand, architect's assistant Stephen Smith, is the son of a mason, he immediately orders him to leave. Knight, who is a relative of Elfride's stepmother, is later on the point of seeking to marry Elfride but ultimately rejects her when he learns she had been previously courted. Elfride, out of desperation, marries a third man, Lord Luxellian. The conclusion finds both suitors travelling together to Elfride, both intent on claiming her hand and neither knowing either that she already is married or that they are accompanying her corpse and coffin as they travel. A
