archipelago of tech spaces which in combination have produced a now hegemonic innovation culture and geography She begins with the subculture of hackathons and meetups introduces startup founders and venture capitalists and explores the transformation of the Brooklyn waterfront from industrial wasteland to innovation coastline She shows how far beyond Silicon Valley cities like New York are shaped by an influential triple helix of business government and university leaders an alliance that joins C Wright Mills's power elite real estate developers and ambitious avatars of academic capitalism As a result cities around the world are caught between the demands of the tech economy and communities' desires for growth a massive and often insurmountable challenge for those who hope to reap the rewards of innovation's success

Theorizing the Sharing Economy Indre Maurer, Johanna Mair, Achim Oberg, 2020-04-10 This volume takes advantage of this opportunity by presenting a collection of empirical and conceptual work that explores the variety and the trajectories of new forms of organizing in the sharing economy and in doing so builds on, rejuvenates and refines existing organization theories
