Date

October 23, 2014

Greeting

Dear Jaime,

Introduction

I am writing to you because I think that you should try hula hooping. First of all, I think that you would like hula hooping because it is tricky. You like to practice doing the monkey bars so you get better at it. I think you would like to learn how to keep the hula hoop up for a long time. Also, I think you would like hula hooping because you can do it with friends. You can do it with Sam and me at recess.

Reasons

Conclusion

These are the reasons why I think you should hula hoop. Please come try it!

Closing

Your friend,
Christine

Research on Writing Peter Mosenthal, Lynne Tamor, Sean A. Walmsley, 1983 Writing Without Boundaries Suzette Youngs, Diane M. Barone, 2007 Research and experience show that when teachers give children choice in what they write about students engagement in their writing increases So imagine what can happen when you offer them choices about what genres to write in and what kinds of voices to write from The possibilities are unlimited and the strength and depth of the connection that students make to a subject can be profound In Writing Without Boundaries you ll find out how to unlock this potential in all your students as they discover what it means to write with purpose Writing Without Boundaries gives you everything you need to get started teaching multigenre writing Suzette Youngs and Diane Barone demonstrate why it works providing the rationale the research and examples of completed student work Then they take you inside classrooms to show how they and other teachers implement multimodal papers and how these lessons in topic selection organization audience planning and presentation will forever change how primary and intermediate students approach writing You ll discover how the writing workshop model can help you coordinate the efforts of your whole class even while you support each student in selecting from more than 60 genres to communicate their interests Best of all Writing Without Boundaries includes classroom tested units of study that use multigenre writing to enhance and extend your curriculum across the disciplines These units give students the chance to explore content from several perspectives as they write and speak from the point of view of historical figures compose biographies of famous or personally meaningful figures investigate historical situations respond to literature With its emphasis on choice voice and audience Writing Without Boundaries cultivates students familiarity with genres while also helping them understand how real world readers and writers communicate through genre and how a single topic can be seen and written about from many many perspectives Show students the power of combining genres Read Writing Without Boundaries and open them up to a new world of possibilities

Inside the Writing Portfolio Carol Brennan Jenkins,1996 Inside the Writing Portfolio addresses the primacy of teacher knowledge in the portfolio process It seeks to answer such questions as What do we need to know in order to assess the personal narratives stories and nonfiction pieces that children choose for their portfolios How do we mark their progress What do we need to know to assess the conventions of spelling punctuation and handwriting How do we assess children s self assessment insights and their goals for future learning Jenkins makes the case for the collaborative portfolio one that merges the selections reflections and goals of both the child and the teacher She takes the stance that if portfolio assessment is to stand as a viable alternative to standardized measures it is essential to capture the insights of both child and teacher in order to illuminate the full extent of a child s learning past present and future Jenkins walks us through the collaborative portfolio of third grader Shane and then follows his progress through grades four and five Research findings are presented in conjunction with Shane s writing record writing samples excerpts from his interviews and surveys and other materials Jenkins also analyzes additional work from younger and older children to illustrate the development of writing across a broad age range She completes the assessment picture with writing samples from home highlighting the expansive nature of literacy
