On the Move to Meaningful Internet Systems 2004: OTM 2004 Workshops Zahir Tari, Angelo Corsaro, 2004-10-14 A special mention for 2004 is in order for the new Doctoral Symposium Workshop where three young postdoc researchers organized an original setup and formula to bring PhD students together and allow them to submit their research proposals for selection A limited number of the submissions and their approaches were independently evaluated by a panel of senior experts at the conference and presented by the students in front of a wider audience These students also got free access to all other parts of the OTM program and only paid a heavily discounted fee for the Doctoral Symposium itself In fact their attendance was largely sponsored by the other participants If evaluated as successful it is the intention of the General Chairs to expand this model in future editions of the OTM conferences and so draw in an audience of young researchers to the OnTheMove forum All three main conferences and the associated workshops share the distributed aspects of modern computing systems and the resulting applications created by the Internet and the so called Semantic Web For DOA 2004 the primary emphasis stayed on the distributed object infrastructure for ODBASE 2004 it was the knowledge bases and methods required for enabling the use of formal semantics and for CoopIS 2004 the main topic was the interaction of such technologies and methods with management issues such as occurs in networked organizations These subject areas naturally overlap and many submissions in fact also treat envisaged mutual impacts among them

Business Process Modeling

Notation Jan Mendling, Matthias Weidlich, Mathias Weske, 2010-10-11 The BPMN 2010 workshop series provides a forum for academics and practitioners that share an interest in business process modeling using Business Process Modeling Notation (BPMN) which has seen a huge uptake in both academia and industry. It is seen by many as the de facto standard for business process modeling. It has become very popular with business analysts, tool vendors, practitioners, and end users. BPMN promises to bridge business and IT and brings process design and implementation closer together. BPMN 2010 was the second workshop of the series. It took place October 13-14, 2010 at the Hasso Plattner Institute at the University of Potsdam, Germany. This volume contains six contributed research papers that were selected from 16 submissions. There was a thorough reviewing process with each paper being reviewed by on average four Program Committee members. In addition to the contributed papers, these proceedings contain three short papers and three extended abstracts of the invited keynote talks. In conjunction with the scientific workshop, a practitioners' event took place the day after the workshop. We want to express our gratitude to all those who made BPMN 2010 possible by generously and voluntarily sharing their knowledge, skills, and time. In particular, we thank the Program Committee members as well as the additional reviewers for devoting their expertise and time to ensure the high quality of the workshop's scientific program through an extensive review process. Finally, we are grateful to all the authors who showed their appreciation and support for the workshop by submitting their valuable work to it.
