You should still read Issue 30.

Teaching Comics and Graphic Narratives Lan Dong, 2014-01-10. The essays in this collection discuss how comics and graphic narratives can be useful primary texts and learning tools in college and university classes across different disciplines. There are six sections: American Studies, Ethnic Studies, Women's and Gender Studies, Cultural Studies, Genre Studies, and Composition, Rhetoric, and Communication. With a combination of practical and theoretical investigations, the book brings together discussions among teacher scholars to advance the scholarship on teaching comics and graphic narratives and provides scholars with useful references, critical approaches, and particular case studies.

McSweeney's Dave Eggers, 2004. Literature in Contemporary Media Culture Sarah J. Paulson, Anders Skare Malvik, 2016-02-03. How does contemporary literature respond to the digitalized media culture in which it takes part? And how do we study literature in order to shed light on these responses? Under the subsections Technology, Subjectivity and Aesthetics, Literature in Contemporary Media Culture sets out to answer these questions. The book shows how literature over the last decade has charted the impact of new technologies on human conduct. It explores how changes in literary production, distribution and consumption can be correlated to changes in social practices more generally. And it examines how and if contemporary media culture affects our understanding of literary aesthetics. Addressing Scandinavian and Anglo-American poetry and fiction produced around the beginning of the present century, Literature in Contemporary Media Culture highlights both well-known and unfamiliar literary texts. It offers cross-disciplinary methodological tools and reading strategies for studying literary phenomena such as intermedial aesthetics, the autobiographical novel, conceptual literature and digital poetry, all of which are prevalent across national borders at the outset of the twenty-first century. This book will be of interest to students and established scholars in the fields of literature, film and media studies and visual studies, as well as to members of the general reading public.
