Linking agriculture and tourism to strengthen agrifood systems in Asia and the Pacific Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2023-08-03 Agrifood systems in Asia and the Pacific can be strengthened by tapping on agrifood tourism linkages. When tourism and agrifood systems interact, both synergies and competition appear. Agriculture and tourism compete between themselves and other sectors for land, water, labour, capital, and transport and logistics services. Cross-sectoral synergies arise when agriculture and tourism influence each other through their respective demand conditions and changes in the enabling environment. These cross-sectoral synergies can be instrumental in strengthening agrifood systems in the region and addressing interlinked crises in the post-pandemic era. Governments across Asia and the Pacific have acknowledged the potential of tapping into agrifood tourism linkages to advance sustainable development in both urban food tourism and rural areas, mostly agricultural tourism, and are implementing efforts to develop this subsector. Agrifood tourism linkages can create income-generating opportunities for farmers and tourism operators, boost employment and stimulate overall economic growth, promote the development of sustainable agrifood systems, prevent rural youth outmigration, and help preserve culinary and agricultural heritage. This publication guides policymakers in the region in the preparation of a strategic plan aimed at developing agrifood tourism and the tourism food value chain as drivers of sustainable development. The successful positioning of a country or location as a culinary or agricultural tourism destination and the creation of synergies between the agriculture and tourism sectors requires a shared vision and coordination between policymakers, destination managers, tourism and agrifood businesses, chefs, farmers, and other key stakeholders.

Tourist Destination Management Nazmi Kozak, Metin Kozak, 2019-04-27 This book provides a wide-ranging overview of the current state of tourist destination management and presents important recent research in the field. Contemporary theoretical and methodological approaches to management and marketing are discussed, and innovative practices with respect to both urban and rural destinations are described with the aid of many interesting case studies from across Europe and beyond. In addition, the volume addresses key issues such as governance, cooperation, the use of social media, and sustainability. A variety of influences on tourism development are examined, and efficient strategies for making destinations distinct are explored. The book will be a welcome addition and update to the existing literature and will be of interest to academics and practitioners alike.

The Routledge Handbook of Second Home Tourism and Mobilities C. Michael Hall, Dieter Müller, 2018-04-17 Second homes have become an increasingly important component of both tourism and housing studies. They can directly and indirectly contribute a significant number of domestic and international visitors to destinations and may be part of longer-term retirement, lifestyle, and amenity migration that can have significant economic and social effects on communities and destination development. This volume offers an overview of different disciplinary and methodological approaches to second homes while simultaneously providing a broad geographical reach. Divided into four parts exploring governance, development, community and mobile second homes the book provides a contemporary account of the major issues in an area of growing international interest This timely handbook covers a wide range of dimensions from planning to the role of second homes in development and the management of their impact The international and cross disciplinary nature of the contributions will be of interest to numerous academic fields in the social sciences as well as urban and regional planners

Advances in Privately Protected Areas James Fitzsimons,Sue Stolton, Miquel Rafa,2024-07-22 As the world faces a biodiversity crisis the protection of important natural areas and areas that are priorities for ecological restoration is becoming increasingly important Global biodiversity targets under the Convention on Biological Diversity are proposing the protection of 30% of terrestrial freshwater and marine ecosystems Privately protected areas are often under recognized despite their significant contributions to biodiversity conservation These areas which meet the IUCN definition of a protected area and are under private governance are highly diverse and involve a wide range of people and organizations This includes governance by individuals and groups of individuals non governmental organizations corporations for profit owners such as ecotourism companies research entities such as universities and field stations or religious entities As a result they experience a set of challenges and opportunities that are often distinct from those faced by government protected areas
