Activity: How the Railroad Changed the West

Write below:

Imagine this: thousands of people are crowded together in a small space, waiting for a train to arrive. The train is made of many cars, and each car is filled with people. The train is moving slowly, and the people are looking out of the windows, watching the landscape. The train is a symbol of progress and a way of life. It is a way of connecting people and places that were once isolated. It is a way of making the world a smaller place.

Before the railroad, people had to travel by horse or on foot. It was a slow and difficult journey. The railroad changed that. It made travel faster and easier. It allowed people to move goods and people from one place to another. It was a revolution in transportation. It was a way of making the world a smaller place. It was a way of connecting people and places that were once isolated. It was a way of making the world a smaller place.
