

Neuron Structure

What are the essential structures that make up a neuron?

Why?

Cells are specialized for different functions in multicellular organisms. In animals, one unique kind of cell helps organisms survive by collecting information and sending messages throughout the body. The shapes and features of neurons, which are the primary cells in the nervous system, enable animals to experience all of the five senses; find food, mates, and shelter; and to survive in their diverse environments.

Model 1 – Parts of a Neuron

1. Model 1 is an illustration of two neurons. Label one of the neurons in the diagram with the following structures:

Cell body or soma

Axon

Cell nucleus

Synapse

Dendrites

2. Which structure(s) on the neuron in Model 1 would receive a signal from either a sensory cell (taste bud, touch receptor, retinal cell) or from another neuron?

The structure that would signal from either a sensory cell to another neuron is the dendrites.

3. Draw an arrow through the two cells in Model 1 to show the path of a nerve impulse if a message was being sent through the two neurons.

Alpha motor neurons MNs are large lower motor neurons of the brainstem and spinal cord They innervate extrafusal muscle fibers of skeletal muscle and are directly responsible for initiating their contraction Alpha motor neurons are distinct from gamma motor neurons which innervate intrafusal muscle fibers of muscle spindles While their cell bodies are found in the central nervous system CNS alpha motor neurons are also considered part of the somatic nervous system a branch of the peripheral nervous system PNS because their axons extend into the periphery to innervate skeletal muscles An alpha motor neuron and the muscle fibers it innervates is a motor unit A motor neuron pool contains all the alpha motor neurons involved
