Organising Knowledge Patrick Lambe, 2014-01-23 Taxonomies are often thought to play a niche role within content oriented knowledge management projects. They are thought to be nice to have but not essential. In this groundbreaking book Patrick Lambe shows how they play an integral role in helping organizations coordinate and communicate effectively. Through a series of case studies he demonstrates the range of ways in which taxonomies can help organizations to leverage and articulate their knowledge. A step by step guide in the book to running a taxonomy project is full of practical advice for knowledge managers and business owners alike. Written in a clear, accessible style, demystifying the jargon surrounding taxonomies. Case studies give real world examples of taxonomies in use. Step by step guides take the reader through the key stages in a taxonomy project.

Indexing and Retrieval of Non-Text Information Diane Rasmussen, Neal, 2012-10-30 The scope of this volume will encompass a collection of research papers related to indexing and retrieval of online non text information. In recent years the Internet has seen an exponential increase in the number of documents placed online that are not in textual format. These documents appear in a variety of contexts such as user generated content sharing websites, social networking websites etc and formats including photographs, videos, recorded music, data visualizations etc. The prevalence of these contexts and data formats presents a particularly challenging task to information indexing and retrieval research due to many difficulties such as assigning suitable semantic metadata processing and extracting non textual content automatically and designing retrieval systems that speak in the native language of non text documents.
