Workplace Health Promotion, 2nd edition

Danijela Gasevic,Leah Okenwa-Emegwa,2023-01-09 Work related factors have implications for health and wellbeing Due to the amount of time spent at the workplace and the impact of work on health over an individual s life course the workplace has evolved as an important arena for population health promotion Risk factors within the physical and psychosocial working environment as well as inadequate organizational support are associated with increasing work related health problems which result in psychosocial and economic implications for the individual the family the organization and the society Recent estimates revealed an increasing level of sickness absence due to work related factors among others In recognition of the importance of worker health and a healthy working life but also in line with numerous occupational health goals many organisations set aside significant amounts of financial resources annually to promote work well being However studies have shown that despite this positive disposition among employers both employee participation and the impact of such programs remain minimal According to the Ottawa declaration for health promotion and the Luxembourg declaration for Workplace Health Promotion WHP WHP should be strategic It is recommended that WHP be conducted in a systematic and continuous process of needs analysis priority setting planning implementation and evaluation Unfortunately available studies show that many companies have policies currently in place but lack knowledge regarding proper implementation and evaluation The foregoing phenomenon raises questions regarding the level of knowledge of and attitudes towards WHP among people in management positions This Research Topic aims to address factors affecting workplace health promotion What does WHP mean for employers What forms of WHP packages exist Is there evaluation and follow up of such interventions What are the barriers and facilitators relating to the uptake of WHP interventions among employees Do people in relevant managerial positions possess adequate knowledge regarding WHP Manuscripts that explore factors crucial for WHP including individual and organizational level factors crucial for WHP are welcomed Manuscripts on barriers evidence based interventions best practices analysis of existing policy documents and those with a life course perspective etc are also welcomed Manuscripts can be of national international and global perspectives

Processual Perspectives on the Co-Production Turn in Public Sector Organizations Thomassen, Anja Overgaard, Jensen, Julie Borup, 2020-12-11 Existing research understands co production as leading to shifts in roles of the public sector institutions and their staffs The shift is seen in the way that a discursive use of the term service provision with embedded logics encompassing fiscal accountability performance measurement efficiency and process regulation has changed towards discourses that embrace collaboration between the public sector front staff and the citizens with the aim of developing legitimate and effective welfare services that are co produced by means of active participation and distributed decision making However this change requires new approaches to the way in which the implementation of new practices and tools is executed in practice as studied and researched and how the new practices and tools are understood and evaluated in organizations Processual Perspectives on the Co Production Turn in Public Sector Organizations is an essential reference book that examines unfolds and develops approaches to co production and implementation as dynamic processual collaborative sensemaking and as requiring and resulting in capacity building and learning Moreover the book examines new approaches to engage citizens and public sector actors in collaborative and co productive processes especially with concern for new goals pertaining to sustainability social equity democratic legitimacy etc Covering topics that include knowledge management and collective leadership the book presents perspectives on capacity building learning change and evaluation in organizations and current research in different areas of the public sector It is intended for public sector administrators and managers investigating the relevancy approaches and methods in co production Furthermore it targets civil actors and welfare service users leaders and managers of public organizations researchers academicians and students in programs that include social welfare development public administration political science and organizational development

Bulletin of the World Health Organization World Health Organization,2009 Nurse Migration in Asia Radha Adhikari,Evgeniya Plotnikova,2023-05-22 Nurse Migration in Asia explores the ever increasing need for a larger nursing and healthcare workforce in Asia where countries are undergoing rapid transformation given economic globalisation and commercial expansion The book examines some of the major forces that play key roles in the changing dynamics of 21st century nurse and care worker migration in the Asian context changes which inevitably have global implications The country case studies range from India China Singapore to Japan and the Philippines Common themes emerge the rapid and unpredictable nature of nurse migration patterns including the direction purpose and frequency of migration and the changes in professional training regulation and workforce policy Forces causing these shifts include the changing population demography global and regional economic fluctuations and finally changing professional roles and gender dynamics The book analyses the response to these transformations and how countries adjust their immigration regulations to attract foreign healthcare professionals It concludes by highlighting the importance for all countries to remain vigilant as regards the exacerbating workforce crisis and engage in developing coherent policy governance frameworks to manage healthcare workforce at the national or international levels A valuable addition to the literature this book will be of interest to academics in the field of nursing health and social care workforce studies population demography labour markets gender and international migration studies globalisation in health and Asian studies

Doing Realist Research Nick Emmel,Joanne Greenhalgh,Ana Manzano,Mark Monaghan,Sonia Dalkin,2018-06-18 Bringing together leading theorists researchers and policy makers with expertise in using realist methods this book is a definitive guide to putting realist methodologies into practice Not just an overview of the field this book looks to extend current debates and apply realist methods to new and practical challenges in social research Featuring practical worked examples of how to turn theory into evidence it empowers readers not just to understand realist methods but to use them It will help readers Negotiate the complexity of relational systems Understand the importance and relevance of cumulative theory Address concerns over data sources and quality Be flexible and creative in realist approaches Produce useful evidence for policy Sophisticated and globally minded this book is the perfect addition to the ongoing development and application of realist methods across evaluation synthesis and social research

Global Prescriptions Rosalind P. Petchesky,2003-08 Global Prescriptions is a critical yet optimistic analysis of the role of transnational women s groups in setting the agendas for women s health in international and national settings The book reviews a decade of women s participation in UN conferences transnational networks national advocacy efforts and sexual and reproductive health provision assessing both their strengths and weaknesses It critiques the Cairo Beijing and Copenhagen conference documents and World Bank WHO and health sector reform policies It also offers case studies of national level reform and advocacy efforts and appraises the controversy concerning TRIPS trade and essential AIDS drugs That controversy Petchesky argues starkly illuminates the collision course of transnational corporate and global trade agendas with the struggle for gender racial and regional equity and the human right to health The author takes into account the formidable political and ideological forces confronting global justice movements and also offers a sobering reassessment of transnational women s NGOs themselves and such problems as NGOization fragmentation and donor dependency Petchesky argues that the power of women s transnational coalitions is only as great as their organic connection with grassroots social movements     Health Promotion International ,2005
