Nature For Sale The Commons Versus Commodities:

Nature for Sale Giovanna Ricoveri,2013 Traces the erosion of the commons from the Industrial Revolution to today s neo liberalism arguing that a new commons is needed today Nature for Sale Giovanna Ricoveri,2013-06-04 Nature for Sale uncovers the rich heritage of common ownership which existed before the dominance of capitalist property relations Giovanna Ricoveri argues that the subsistence commons of the past can be reinvented today to provide an alternative to the current destructive economic order Ricoveri outlines the distinct features of common ownership as it has existed in history cooperation sustainable use of natural resources and decision making through direct democracy In doing so she shows how it is possible to provide goods and services which are not commodities exchanged on the capitalistic market something still demonstrated today in village communities across the global South Tracing the erosion of the commons from the European enclosures at the dawn of the Industrial Revolution to the new enclosures of modern capitalism the book concludes by arguing that a new commons is needed today It will be essential reading for activists as well as students and academics in history politics economics and development studies The Commons César Rendueles,2023-12-01 This book provides a lucid rigorous and critical account of the commons its history and its political potentialities as well as its limitations and ambiguities In particular The Commons analyses the relations of solidarity and conflict between the commons and public welfare policies as well as the role the commons can play in the struggle against the global socioecological crisis that is threatening the very future of humanity Over the past decade various theories concepts and political projects connected to the commons have become fundamentally important for social science and numerous social movements around the world In sociology economics political science history geography the law and anthropology the study of the commons has inspired many important academic innovations In parallel community activists labour unions ecologists feminists and cooperativists have discovered in the commons a powerful and thought provoking toolkit with which to defend public services guarantee access to cultural goods organise reproductive and care work and more generally fight against commodification and ecological destruction The first two chapters analyse the dual origin of the academic rediscovery of the commons On one side from the realm of political science and economics the concept of the commons has been used to challenge the dominant paradigms founded on rational choice theory On the other from the fields of history law and anthropology analysis of the violent destruction of the commons has served to deepen our understanding of the coercive and antidemocratic processes that form the bedrock of capitalism and our current plight The third and fourth chapters examine the role that the commons can play in emancipatory political projects aiming to deepen democracy in mass industrial societies The Commons will appeal to scholars across the social sciences and academics with interests in social and political theory the environment and sustainability and political sociology European Democratic Institutions and Administrations Francesco Merloni,Alessandra Pioggia,2018-09-03 This book presents the results of extensive international comparative research into the effects of the economic and financial crisis on democratic institutions and social cohesion policies. The collected studies describe and analyse the measures often referred to as reforms adopted to counter the crisis and the effects of these measures. It investigates three areas: the impact on the functioning of institutions with respect to the relationship between representative institutions and governments and the organisational structure of administrations at national and local levels; the impact that the austerity policies on public spending have on social rights and the impact on traditional instruments of public action; administrative simplification, public services delivering the use of common assets. The general findings highlight the effect of reducing the administrative and government capacity of the democratic institutions, the public sector rather than being innovative and made more effective declines offering increasingly poor public services and making bad decisions fuelling substantive or formal privatisation solutions which in turn cause further weakening.

Visions of Freedom Morris Brian Morris, 2019-10-15 Every ten years notoriously eclectic thinker Brian Morris takes a year of sabbatical and launches out into another field about which he knows nothing. In the 1980s it was botany, in the 1990s zoology, in the 2000s entomology. The quintessential polymath Morris has written on his incredible breadth of interests in wide ranging essays with subjects ranging from boxing to deep ecology to new age gurus. Collected here for the first time Visions of Freedom brings together all of Morris's concise yet diverse essays on politics, history and ecology written since 1989. It includes book reviews, letters and articles in the engaging and accessible style for which Morris is known. The thinkers he deals with are as diverse as Thomas Paine to C. L. R. James from Karl Marx to Krishnamurti from Max Weber to Naomi Klein. He also delves into the canon of classic anarchist thinkers like Kropotkin, Bakunin, Reclus, Proudhon and Flores Magón. Taking a stance against the obscurantism of contemporary academic discourse, Morris's writings demonstrate an interdisciplinary approach that moves seamlessly between topics, developing practical connections between scholarly debates and the pressing social, ecological and political issues of our times.

Selection of Reports and Papers of the House of Commons, 1836 Making Commons Dynamic Prateep Kumar Nayak, 2021-03-01 With an emphasis on the challenges of sustaining the commons across local to global scales, Making Commons Dynamic examines the empirical basis of theorising the concepts of commonisation and decommonisation as a way to understand commons as a process and offers analytical directions for policy and practice that can potentially help maintain commons as commons in the future. Focusing on commonisation/decommonisation as an analytical framework useful to examine and respond to changes in the commons, the chapter contributions explore how natural resources are commonised and decommonised through the influence of multi-level internal and external drivers and their implications for commons governance across disparate geographical and temporal contexts. It draws from a large number of geographically diverse empirical cases 20 countries in North, South and Central America and South and South East Asia. They involve a wide range of commons related to fisheries, forests, grazing, wetlands, coastal marine, rivers and dams, aquaculture, wildlife, tourism, groundwater, surface freshwater, mountains, small islands, social movements and climate. The book is a transdisciplinary endeavour with contributions by scholars from geography history sociology anthropology political studies planning human ecology cultural and applied ecology environmental and development studies environmental science and technology public policy Indigenous tribal studies Latin American and Asian studies and environmental change and governance and authors representing the commons community NGOs and policy Contributors include academics community members NGOs practitioners and policymakers Therefore commonisation decommonisation lessons drawn from these chapters are well suited for contributing to the practice policy and theory of the commons both locally and globally

Food futures: ethics, science and culture I. Anna S. Olsson, Sofia M. Araújo, M. Fátima Vieira, 2023-07-31 Food is at the centre of human existence We eat every day not only to satisfy our physical needs but also as part of cultural and social interaction Food choices and markets shape the agricultural landscape and the cities we live in Whereas what we choose to eat and feed our family is part of who we are a growing number of actors compete to influence our food habits through marketing strategies and nutritional advice And ethical considerations are coupled with every choice over food whether related to production distribution consumption food waste policy in general marketing or advice Given the variety of implications the food problem entails the construction of an inclusive society must redirect the concerns about food in the present to the imagination of future alternatives The search for innovative solutions calls for multidisciplinary critical enquiry and utopian thinking will be instrumental in that regard This book brings together work by scholars in a wide range of disciplines addressing many different topics related to food futures Topics covered include food and literature food waste food communication food policy corporate social responsibility and public procurement in food supply responsible research and innovation in food production as well as sustainability and animal ethics and welfare
