The 21st Century in 100 Games Aditya Deshbandhu, 2024-06-20 The 21st Century in 100 Games is an interactive public history of the contemporary world. It creates a ludological retelling of the 21st century through 100 games that were announced, launched, and played from the turn of the century. The book analyzes them and then uses the games as a means of entry to examine both key events in the 21st century and the evolution of the gaming industry. Adopting a tri-pronged perspective, the reviewer, the academic, and an industry observer, it studies games as ludo-narratological artefacts and resituates games in a societal context by examining how they affect and are engaged with by players, reviewers, the gaming community, and the larger gaming industry. This book will be a must-read for readers interested in video games, new media, digital culture, culture studies, and history. FCS Computer Programming L4 Fahiemah Nash, 2009 The Official Xbox Magazine, 2008 The Times Index, 2010 Indexes the Times Sunday Times and magazine Times literary supplement Times educational supplement Times educational supplement Scotland and the Times higher education supplement FCC Record United States. Approaches to Teaching Stoker's Dracula William Thomas McBride, 2025-03-03 This volume helps teachers contextualize Bram Stoker's Dracula in its historical and cultural moment, considering psychology, technology, gender roles, colonialism, and anxieties about the other. It also situates the novel among the kindred texts that have proliferated since its publication, from film and television to the growing genre of vampire novels. Essays explore the novel in terms of medical humanities, contagion, and the gothic, as well as ethnicity, identity, and race. Contributors analyze Dracula in the context of various ancient and modern cultural productions, including classical Indian aesthetics and African American vampire literature, and describe a broad range of classroom settings, including a technical university, a Hispanic-serving institution, and others.
