Is an Electric Car Right for You? Chris Johnston, Edwin JC Sobey, 2022-08-01 The automotive industry is manufacturing more electric vehicles than ever before It's not uncommon to see an electric vehicle pull up next to you at a stop light or to pass a charging station beside the road But what exactly is an electric vehicle Will it really save you money Are they hard to maintain This quick reference guide takes the mystery out of the electric vehicles We will walk you through the process of deciding if an electric vehicle is right for you You'll discover the benefits of electric vehicles what to know before you buy and what to do after you bring it home In addition a special section is dedicated to addressing common misconceptions such as whether or not EVs have enough range to be a viable option for your transportation needs Isn't it time you discover if an electric vehicle is the right choice for you Electric Vehicle Progress, 1999

Transportation Air Pollutants Thomas Brewer, 2020-11-17 This book begins by discussing the problems caused by transportation emissions the various types of emissions and the impacts they have on public health agricultural production and climate change The next several chapters then present technologies and policies from around the world which can be used to solve some of these problems Finally the book discusses implications for the future from both an industrial and governmental point of view

Electric Vehicles and Electricity Demand John Waugh Wright, 1999

The Electric Vehicle Gij's Mom, 2013-02-15 Winner of the Engineer Historian Award from the International History and Heritage Committee of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the Nicholas Joseph Cugnot Award given by the Society of Automotive Historians Recent attention to hybrid cars that run on both gasoline and electric batteries has made the electric car an apparent alternative to the internal combustion engine and its attendant environmental costs and geopolitical implications Few people realize that the electric car neither a recent invention nor a historical curiosity has a story as old as that of the gasoline powered automobile and that at one time many in the nascent automobile industry believed battery powered engines would become the dominant technology In both Europe and America electric cars and trucks succeeded in meeting the needs of a wide range of consumers Before World War II as many as 30 000 electric cars and more than 10 000 electric trucks plied American roads European cities were busy with electrically propelled fire engines taxis delivery vans buses heavy trucks and private cars Even so throughout the century long history of electric propulsion the widespread conviction it was an inferior technology remained stubbornly in place an assumption mirrored in popular and scholarly memory In The Electric Vehicle Gijs Mom challenges this view arguing that at the beginning of the automobile age neither the internal combustion engine nor the battery powered vehicle enjoyed a clear advantage He explores the technology and marketing consumer ratio faction relationship over four generations of electric vehicle design with separate chapters on privately owned passenger cars and commercial vehicles Mom makes comparisons among European countries and between Europe and America He finds that the electric vehicle offered many advantages among them greater reliability and control less noise and pollution He also argues that a nexus of factors cultural underpowered and less rugged electric cars seemed feminine at a time when most car buyers were men structural the shortcomings of battery technology at the time and systemic the infrastructural problems of changing large numbers of batteries ultimately gave an edge to the internal combustion engine One hopes as a new generation of electric vehicles becomes a reality The Electric Vehicle offers a long overdue reassessment of the place of this technology in the history of street transportation

The Bhutan Electric Vehicle Initiative Da Zhu, Dominic Pasquale Patella, Roland Steinmetz, Pajnapa Peamsilpakulchorn, 2016-04-06 As the country that inspires the world with gross national happiness development philosophy Bhutan is striving to pursue its economic growth while committing to its core values of inclusive and green development Even with robust economic growth rates Bhutan's dependence on imports and hydropower revenues drives the country to search for self reliant option to fuel the economy while further decarbonizing the economy Electric vehicle is being explored as one of the key policies to introduce green mobility reduce fossil fuel imports and put the country firmly on a green growth path Globally electric vehicles market and technology are still in the nascent stage but are developing rapidly The automotive industry has adopted electrification as a pillar of future drive train technology EV uptake is expected to increase significantly with ongoing improvements in technology and resulting cost decreases in the global market This report aims to help Bhutan think through various technical and policy issues of introducing electric vehicles in its own context It analyses a variety of factors that will impact adoption of electric vehicles from technical market and financial feasibility to consumer awareness and stakeholders capacity It also addresses several policy questions which are at the heart of public debate such as affordability of the government to undertake the program economic costs and benefits distributional impact fiscal and macroeconomic implications Drawing from vast international experiences the report examines in great technical details how global cutting edge technology like electric vehicles could be pursued in the context of developing economies with different socio economic characteristics and constraints compared to advanced economies It will help readers better grasp the technical financial economic and social challenges as well as opportunities in initiating electric vehicles program and provide practical recommendations that will be useful for policy makers in designing their own EV initiative
