Handbook of Research on Transforming Teachers' Online Pedagogical

Reasoning for Engaging K-12 Students in Virtual Learning Niess, Margaret L.,Gillow-Wiles, Henry,2021-06-25 The COVID 19 pandemic drastically transformed the classroom by keeping students and teachers apart for the sake of safety As schools emptied remote learning rapidly expanded through online services and video chatrooms Unfortunately this disrupted many students and teachers who were not accustomed to remote classrooms This challenge has forced K 12 teachers to think differently about teaching Unexpectedly and with little time to prepare they have been confronted with redesigning their curriculum and instruction from face to face to online virtual classrooms to protect students from the COVID 19 virus while ensuring that these new online initiatives remain sustainable and useful in the post pandemic world As teachers learn to take advantage of the affordances and strengths of the multiple technologies available for virtual classroom instruction their instruction both in online and face to face will impact what and how students learn in the 21st century The Handbook of Research on Transforming Teachers Online Pedagogical Reasoning for Engaging K 12 Students in Virtual Learning examines the best practices and pedagogical reasoning for designing online strategies that work for K 12 virtual learning The initial section provides foundational pedagogical ideas for constructing engaging virtual learning environments that leverage the unique strengths and opportunities while avoiding the weaknesses and threats of the online world The following chapters present instructional strategies for multiple grade levels and content areas best practices that work clearly describing why they work and the teachers pedagogical reasoning that supports online implementations The chapters provide ways to think about teaching in virtual environments that can be used to guide instructional strategy choices and recognizes the fundamental differences between face to face and virtual environments as an essential design component Covering such topics as K 12 classrooms pedagogical reasoning and virtual learning this text is perfect for professors teachers students educational designers and developers instructional technology faculty distance learning faculty and researchers interested in the subject

The Writing Revolution Judith C. Hochman,Natalie Wexler,2017-07-27 Why you need a writing revolution in your classroom and how to lead it The Writing Revolution TWR provides a clear method of instruction that you can use no matter what subject or grade level you teach The model also known as The Hochman Method has demonstrated over and over that it can turn weak writers into strong communicators by focusing on specific techniques that match their needs and by providing them with targeted feedback Insurmountable as the challenges faced by many students may seem The Writing Revolution can make a dramatic difference And the method does more than improve writing skills It also helps Boost reading comprehension Improve organizational and study skills Enhance speaking abilities Develop analytical capabilities The Writing Revolution is as much a method of teaching content as it is a method of teaching writing

There's no separate writing block and no separate writing curriculum. Instead, teachers of all subjects adapt the TWR strategies and activities to their current curriculum and weave them into their content instruction. But perhaps what's most revolutionary about the TWR method is that it takes the mystery out of learning to write well. It breaks the writing process down into manageable chunks and then has students practice the chunks they need repeatedly while also learning content.
