Learning for Health Professions Educators Roger Edwards,Bobbie Ann Adair White ,Ardi Findyartini,2025-06-02 The health professions continue to evolve and change rapidly as more opportunities and challenges emerge Hence health professions educators are required to be adaptive and nimble in their creation and adoption of teaching and learning innovations These innovations have included teaching with technologies like virtual reality gamification online applications and artificial intelligence Innovations also include know how such as emotional intelligence and ways of approaching the learning process through student centered learning experiences grounded in the cognitive science of learning Scholarship related to identification of the best uses of different innovations is difficult The same innovations have proven to be engaging in some contexts and burdensome in others Additionally simulation based education continues to incorporate innovations in how health professions educators are taught with more focus on effectiveness of the simulation educator including applications with distance simulation Training and development for health professions and simulation educators is becoming more formalized yet gaps on effectiveness of training and development efforts persist Faculty effectiveness especially as it relates to educational innovation adoption is difficult to measure and demonstration of related competencies is in its infancy The goal of this Research Topic is to bring together state of the art examples of scholarship in health professions education related to the awareness and appropriate adoption of innovation which is broadly defined as an idea practice technology and know how Evidence about the current state of emerging innovations effectiveness of innovations and evidence about the competencies needed for teaching in our evolving environments are all areas of interest for this collection All types of scholarship can support this focus including analyses based on primary quantitative and qualitative data collection secondary data analyses literature reviews and methodological infrastructure tool development Additionally scholarship investigating how these innovations have influenced health professions educators including their training and development is part of the goal of the collection The scope of this collection covers any innovations that are applicable to professional development and implementation for health professions educators More specifically we invite scholarship related to how educators prepare themselves for meeting the needs of their students given the changing roles and innovations available to both faculty and students across learning environments worldwide Examples of topics of interest include Analyses of innovation related to the evolving roles of health professions educators Reviews of educational innovation adoption by health professions education faculty especially related to artificial intelligence linked applications Exploring factors associated with professional development training and effective educational innovation adoption by faculty Simulation based educational innovation applications for faculty development Faculty innovation in resource constrained environments in low and middle income countries Methodological challenges associated with studying educational innovations by faculty in health professions education and critical research needs associated with generating and evaluating educational innovations Methodological considerations associated with health professions education faculty competencies Theoretically focused analyses are welcome as long as they are linked to applications Network+ Guide to Networks Tamara Dean,2002 Network A Guide to Networks Second Edition is designed to prepare users for CompTIA s newly revised 2002 Network certification exam and fully maps to the exam objectives The book is also an excellent general networking book covering networking hardware and software and the soft skills necessary to provide service to internal and external customers Included in the book are several useful resources that any networking professional would find handy including a directory of hardware resources examples of standard networking forms and a NetWare Windows NT command reference Training and Development Organizations Directory Janice W. McLean,1994 This reference is a guide to more than 2500 companies that produce more than 12 000 workshops seminars videos and other training programmes that enhance skills and personal development Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services American Council on Education,2000 70-214 Nick Wells,Will Schmied,Shimonski,Robert Shimonski,2003-12-10 The 70 214 MCSE MCSA Guide to Implementing and Administering Security on a Microsoft Windows 2000 Network is a hands on practical guide that can be used to master the security features of a Windows 2000 server. Though aimed at enabling the reader to pass the MCSE MCSA certification exam 70-214, the book's larger goal is to provide system administrators with the background and practical steps needed to create and maintain a secure working environment for networked users. This book focuses on the interaction of Active Directory with the security mechanisms provided by Windows 2000, including the Encryption File System, Kerberos authentication, security templates, and Group Policy security settings. Specialized topics such as editing Registry keys and using command line utilities are also discussed. Hundreds of figures demonstrate how to set up and manage secure systems while conceptual overviews outline the principles behind both the technology and sound administrative practices designed to minimize security risks.
