Journal of Botany, British and Foreign ,1869 Current Literature ,1895 Resources in Education ,1998

Bulletin of the History of Medicine ,1987 Includes the Transactions of the 15th annual meetings of the American Association of the History of Medicine 1939 Current Opinion ,1895 Born This Way Joanna Wuest, 2023-09-15 The story of how a biologically driven understanding of gender and sexuality became central to US LGBTQ political and legal advocacy Across protests and courtrooms LGBTQ advocates argue that sexual and gender identities are innate Oppositely conservatives incite panic over groomers and a contagious gender ideology that corrupts susceptible children Yet as this debate rages on the history of what first compelled the hunt for homosexuality s biological origin story may hold answers for the queer rights movement s future Born This Way tells the story of how a biologically based understanding of gender and sexuality became central to LGBTQ advocacy Starting in the 1950s activists sought out mental health experts to combat the pathologizing of homosexuality As Joanna Wuest shows these relationships were forged in subsequent decades alongside two broader concurrent developments the rise of an interest group model of rights advocacy and an explosion of biogenetic and bio based psychological research The result is essential reading to fully understand LGBTQ activism today and how clashes over science remain crucial to equal rights struggles The Scientific Journal Alex Csiszar, 2018-06-25 Not since the printing press has a media object been as celebrated for its role in the advancement of knowledge as the scientific journal From open communication to peer review the scientific journal has long been central both to the identity of academic scientists and to the public legitimacy of scientific knowledge But that was not always the case At the dawn of the nineteenth century academies and societies dominated elite study of the natural world Journals were a relatively marginal feature of this world and sometimes even an object of outright suspicion The Scientific Journal tells the story of how that changed Alex Csiszar takes readers deep into nineteenth century London and Paris where savants struggled to reshape scientific life in the light of rapidly changing political mores and the growing importance of the press in public life The scientific journal did not arise as a natural solution to the problem of communicating scientific discoveries Rather as Csiszar shows its dominance was a hard won compromise born of political exigencies shifting epistemic values intellectual property debates and the demands of commerce Many of the tensions and problems that plague scholarly publishing today are rooted in these tangled beginnings As we seek to make sense of our own moment of intense experimentation in publishing platforms peer review and information curation Csiszar argues powerfully that a better understanding of the journal s past will be crucial to imagining future forms for the expression and organization of knowledge Aquatic Biology Abstracts ,1970-12 Revisiting Waldo's Administrative State David H. Rosenbloom, Howard E. McCurdy, 2006-05-22 The prevailing notion that the best government is achieved through principles of management and business practices is hardly new it echoes the early twentieth century gospel of efficiency challenged by Dwight Waldo in 1948 in his pathbreaking book The Administrative State Asking Efficiency for what Waldo warned that public administrative efficiency must be backed by a framework of consciously held democratic values Revisiting Waldo's Administrative State brings together a group of distinguished authors who critically explore public administration's big ideas and issues and question whether contemporary efforts to reinvent government promote privatization and develop new public management approaches constitute a coherent political theory capable of meeting the complex challenges of governing in a democracy Taking Waldo's book as a starting point the authors revisit and update his key concepts and consider their applicability for today The book follows Waldo's conceptual structure first probing the material and ideological background of modern public administration problems of political philosophy and finally particular challenges inherent in contemporary administrative reform It concludes with a look ahead to wicked policy problems such as terrorism global warming and ecological threats whose scope is so global and complex that they will defy any existing administrative structures and values Calling for a return to conscious consideration of democratic accountability fairness justice and transparency in government the book's conclusion assesses the future direction of public administrative thought This book can stand alone as a commentary on reconciling democratic values and governance today or as a companion when reading Waldo's classic volume Outlook Alfred Emanuel Smith, Francis Walton, 1876 Mind ,2003

Issues for 1896-1900 contain papers of the Aristotelian Society Government Reports Announcements & Index ,1989-05 The Annotated Origin Charles Darwin, 2011-04-15 Charles Darwin's On the Origin of Species is one of the most important and yet least read scientific works in the history of science The Annotated Origin is a facsimile of the first edition of 1859 and is accompanied by James T Costa's marginal annotations drawing on his extensive experience with Darwin's ideas in the field lab and classroom Journal of the Indian Society of Soil Science Indian Society of Soil Science, 1995

The School Journal ,1903 Ecology Abstracts ,1995 Coverage 1982 current updated monthly This database covers current ecology research across a wide range of disciplines reflecting recent advances in light of growing evidence regarding global environmental change and destruction Major areas of subject coverage include Algae lichens Animals Annelids Aquatic ecosystems Arachnids Arid zones Birds Brackish water Bryophytes pteridophytes Coastal ecosystems Conifers Conservation Control Crustaceans Ecosystem studies Fungi Grasses Grasslands High altitude environments Human ecology Insects Legumes Mammals Management Microorganisms Molluscs Nematodes Paleo ecology Plants Pollution studies Reptiles River basins Soil TAiga tundra Terrestrial ecosystems Vertebrates Wetlands Woodlands Abstracts of the Papers Presented at the XI International Botanical Congress, August 24-September 2, 1969 and the International Wood Chemistry Symposium, September 2-4, 1969 ,1969 The Implementation of Data Base Searching at Three Campuses of the State University of New York ,1980
