The Marginalization of Poetry Bob Perelman, 1996-07-28 Language writing the most controversial avant garde movement in contemporary American poetry appeals strongly to writers and readers interested in the politics of postmodernism and in iconoclastic poetic form Drawing on materials from popular culture avoiding the standard stylistic indications of poetic lyricism and using nonsequential sentences are some of the ways in which language writers make poetry a more open and participatory process for the readers Reading this kind of writing however may not come easily in a culture where poetry is treated as property of a special class It is this barrier that Bob Perelman seeks to break down in this fascinating and comprehensive account of the language writing movement A leading language writer himself Perelman offers insights into the history of the movement and discusses the political and theoretical implications of the writing He provides detailed readings of work by Lyn Hejinian Ron Silliman and Charles Bernstein among many others and compares it to a wide range of other contemporary and modern American poetry A variety of issues are addressed in the following chapters The Marginalization of Poetry Language Writing and Literary History Here and Now on Paper Parataxis and Narrative The New Sentence in Theory and Practice Write the Power Building a More Powerful Vocabulary Bruce Andrews and the World Trade Center This Page Is My Page This Page Is Your Page Gender and Mapping An Alphabet of Literary Criticism and A False Account of Talking with Frank O Hara and Roland Barthes in Philadelphia

M NourbeSe Philip Bloomfield sets the work of these five authors within a vigorous tradition including earlier work by Ezra Pound and Walter Benjamin and then shows how these five poets create poems that engender new encounters with pivotal episodes in history such as the English regicide or Korea's traumatized twentieth century Exploring our shared but imperfectly understood history as well as omissions and blind spots in historiography Bloomfield outlines the tension between the irretrievability of effaced historical evidence and the hope that poetry may reconstitute such unrecoverable histories She posits that this tension is fertile engendering a form of aesthetically enacted epistemological enquiry Fascinating and seminal Archaeopoetics pays special attention to the sensuous materiality of texts and most especially to the visual manifestations of poetry The poems in this volume employ the visual imagery of the word itself or incorporate imagery into the poetry to propose persuasive alternatives to narrative or discursive frameworks of historical knowledge The Nights of Straparola Giovanni Francesco Straparola,1894 A Midsummer-night's dream, ed. by E.K.
