Telephone Healthcare The Role of 4G and Emerging Mobile Systems for Future in Health Systems Author Index The Semantic Web Bo Leuf, 2006-02-22 The Semantic Web is an idea of World Wide Web inventor Tim Berners Lee that the Web as a whole can be made more intelligent and perhaps even intuitive about how to serve a user's needs. Although search engines index much of the Web's content, they have little ability to select the pages that a user really wants or needs. Berners Lee foresees a number of ways in which developers and authors singly or in collaborations can use self-descriptions and other techniques so that the context understanding programs can selectively find what users want. The Semantic Web Crafting Infrastructure for Agency presents a more holistic view of the current state of development and deployment. This is a comprehensive reference to the rapidly developing technologies which are enabling more intelligent and automated transactions over the internet and a visionary overview of the implications of deploying such a layer of infrastructure. A through examination of the Semantic Web including the following topics: web information management, languages and protocols, application and tools, and collaboration and agency. A unique volume of practical information in depth analysis, conceptual overviews and contextual material from professionals in the field. Features appendices of technical terms and glossary, Semantic Web resources, intellectual property issues and lists of elements. This is essential reading for engineers, web developers and industry professionals wishing to enhance their knowledge of recent developments. Management staff, lecturers, postgraduate and undergraduate students will also find this book appealing.
