Stanley, 2006-09-20 Jesus teaches that regardless of one s profession if one does not demonstrate a changed life produced by God one will not enter into heaven Such a judgment will be made when Jesus returns and judges every person according to his or her works While this may seem contradictory to some more well known passages ruling out the role of works in salvation e g Rom 3 21 4 25 Gal 2 16 21 Eph 2 8 9 there is every good reason to understand that Jesus teachings complement such passages The works that admit one into heaven are not works produced by the flesh before conversion but works produced by God after conversion They will fundamentally be characterized by a life of discipleship love for others and endurance in faith and obedience and will therefore serve to confirm that one indeed did have a relationship with God during one s life Redescribing Christian Origins Ronald Dean Cameron, Merrill P. Miller, 2004 These essays challenge the traditional picture of Christian origins Making use of social anthropology they move away from traditional assumptions about the foundations of Christianity to propose that its historical beginnings are best understood as reflexive social experiments

Promise, Law, Faith T Gordon, 2021-10-05 In Promise Law Faith T David Gordon argues that Paul uses promise law and

faith in Galatians to denote three covenant administrations by synecdoche a figure of speech in which a part is made to represent the whole or vice versa and that he chose each synecdoche because it characterized the distinctive but not exclusive feature of that covenant For instance Gordon argues the Abrahamic covenant was characterized by three remarkable promises made to an aging couple to have numerous descendants who would inherit a large arable land and the Seed of whom would one day bless all the nations of the world the Sinai covenant was characterized by the many laws given both originally at Sinai and later in the remainder of the Mosaic corpus and the New Covenant is characterized by faith in the dying and rising of Christ As Gordon's subtitle suggests he believes that both the dominant Protestant approach to Galatians and the New Perspectives on Paul approach fail to appreciate that Paul's reasoning in Galatians is covenant historical this is what Gordon calls perhaps a Third Perspective on Paul In Galatians Paul is not arguing that one covenant is good and the other bad rather he is arguing that the Sinai covenant was only a temporary covenant administration between the promissory Abrahamic covenant and its ultimate fulfilment in the New Covenant in Jesus For a specific time the Sinai covenant isolated the Israelites from the nations to preserve the memory of the Abrahamic promises and to preserve the integrity of his seed Seed through whom one day the same nations would one day be richly blessed But once that Seed arrived in Jesus providing the grace of repentance to the Gentiles it was no longer necessary or proper to segregate them from the descendants of Abraham Paul's argument in Galatians is therefore covenant historical he corrects misbehaviors that is requiring observance of the Mosaic Law associated with the New Covenant by describing the relation of that New Covenant to the two covenants instituted before it the Abrahamic and the Sinaitic hence the covenants of promise law and faith Effectively Paul argues that the New Covenant is a covenant in its own right that displaces the temporary Christ anticipating Israel threatening and Gentile excluding Sinai covenant

Paul and the Vocation of Israel Lionel J. Windsor, 2014-04-01 The Apostle Paul was the greatest early missionary of the Christian gospel He was also by his own admission an Israelite How can both these realities coexist in one individual This book argues that Paul viewed his mission to the Gentiles in and of itself as the primary expression of his Jewish identity The concept of Israel's divine vocation is used to shed fresh light on a number of much debated passages in Paul's letter to the Romans

Paul's Language of Grace in Its Graeco-Roman Context James R. Harrison, 2003 James R Harrison argues that the Graeco Roman benefaction context of favour is the backdrop of Paul's understanding of divine and humane grace By the first century AD was the leitmotiv of the Hellenistic reciprocity system It shaped the conventions of giving and receiving throughout the eastern Mediterranean basin Before Paul's converts were exposed to the gospel they would have held various beliefs regarding divine beneficence The apostle needed to tailor his language of grace as much to the theological concerns of

Graeco Roman culture as to first century Judaism In making benefaction terminology the touchstone of his theology of grace Paul chose to articulate his understanding of over and against the theological and social beliefs of the Mediterranean city states and the imperial rulers While Paul endorses the reciprocity system he redefines its rationale in the light of the gospel of grace and transforms its social expression in his house churches
