Gross Anatomy and Basic Function of the Endocrine Glands

- Both the endocrine and nervous systems are major regulating systems of the body; however, the nervous system has been compared to a text message, and the endocrine system to mailing a letter. Briefly explain this comparison.

Nervous system controls homeostasis through nerve impulses, it generates transmit electrical impulses less than a second in order for muscle, tissue, gland to contract. Endocrine system takes time to release hormones into bloodstream and reaches the destination.

- Define hormone. Hormones are chemical substances that regulate the internal environment, metabolism, energy balance & production.
- Chemically, hormones belong chiefly to two molecular groups, the water-soluble hormones and the steroid & lipid soluble hormones
- Define target cell. A cell that has receptors to recognize/respond to a given hormone
- If hormones travel in the bloodstream, why don't all tissues respond to all hormones? because hormones can only bind with specific receptors of the target cell
- Identify the endocrine organ described by each of the following statements.

- |                      |   |
|----------------------|---|
| Thyroid gland | 1. located in the anterior neck; produces key hormones for metabolism                         |
| Hypothalamus  | 2. produces the hormones that are stored in the posterior pituitary                           |
| Pancreas      | 3. a mixed gland, located behind the stomach and close to the small intestine                 |
| Testes        | 4. paired glands suspended in the scrotum   |
| Pituitary     | 5. bilobed gland located in the sella turcica   |
| Ovaries       | 6. found in the pelvic cavity of the female, concerned with ova and female hormone production |
| Thyroid       | 7. found in the upper thorax overlying the heart; large during youth                          |
| Pineal        | 8. found in the roof of the third ventricle of the brain                                      |

Drugs, Athletes, and Physical Performance John A. Thomas, 2012-12-06 The use of performance enhancing substances by athletes is not a contemporary epidemic In fact athletes purportedly resorted to such measures over 2000 years ago Even at the ancient olympic games athletes employed special diets and concoctions to enhance their performance In ancient Rome and ancient Egypt gladiators and athletes ingested various potions in order to improve their physical endurance In most instances such early examples of substance abuse by athletes involved relatively innocuous chemicals and one might presume that any enhanced performance could be attributed largely to a placebo effect Nowadays aside from the ethical issues these performance enhancing substances are far more potent and hence toxic to the body The many performance enhancing chemicals drugs and hormones exert a variety of complex pharmacological actions but all are meant in some fashion to improve physical ability Their pharmacological effects range from improved muscle strength as in the case of anabolic steroids and growth hormone to central nervous system stimulation as in the case of caffeine or amphetamine Analgesics or other pain killing drugs may also be used to suppress an existing injury in order that the athlete may compete
