Bombarded Cyrus Krohn, Tom Farmer, 2020-10-10 Imagine an imminent America where citizens are bombarded with personalized political messages from every smart device yet information is so suspect nobody can tell what the truth is. It means oceans of disinformation engineered to sow false beliefs or simply disorient. The coronavirus pandemic provided a foretaste of an infuriating dystopian future. From the start Americans fought over the most basic facts of the crisis from death tolls to quack cures to the wisdom of stay at home orders. The splintered digital infosphere bred confusion and delusion some of it fatal. Now think of our campaigns and elections. The digital information age means more than hyper targeted just for you messages from insurance companies and presidential candidates alike. Big Data is on the way to fueling information environments so fine tuned no two of us hold the same view of reality and no two voters hear the same pitch. Already citizens don't know who to trust or what to believe about COVID 19 or anything else. If we ask nothing more of tech providers or digital citizens the fog will continue to thicken. Irritation will merge into despair and then numbness and democracy teeters. Digital pioneer Cyrus Krohn knows the territory and in Bombarded: How to Fight Back Against the Online Assault on Democracy Krohn locates the roots of our blooming political chaos in the earliest days of the World Wide Web. But he goes beyond recounting 25 years of destabilizing Internet shock waves and his own role in building digital culture. Krohn rolls out a provocative action plan for rescuing the American system of campaigns and elections while there is still time. Trying to shield yourself from disinformation and deep fakes Cyrus Krohn offers a five step program to fight back. This book rings true.

Jill Dougherty Former CNN Moscow Bureau Chief Criminal Justice in the 21st Century (4th Edition) Laura J.

Moriarty, 2025-03-26 The fourth edition of Criminal Justice Technology in the 21st Century comes just about five years after the COVID 19 pandemic when technology took a more prominent role in our everyday lives and more importantly in the criminal justice system. Ideas that once were mere thoughts from academics pondering the future have become everyday realities. While most areas of life came to a standstill as the pandemic ensued the criminal justice system could not stop. Crime adapts more seamlessly than other aspects of society and as such the criminal justice system needed to adapt as well. The contributing authors were asked to consider the pandemic and its impact on evolving technology and advancements to address crime. Likewise other societal concerns focusing on law enforcement and its questionable use of force at times have escalated the need for technology to ensure that over policing in minority neighborhoods and accountability is established or not to deescalate violence whether police brutality or protester police violence. The impact of technology remains to be seen but there is real hope that such technology can begin to shed light on what is happening in these volatile situations. Either the current contributors have updated their chapters from the Third Edition or there are new contributors focusing on the abovementioned issues. This fourth edition with more than 20 contributors highlights the most current thinking about criminal justice technology. The book is longer than the previous editions but has fewer chapters. This is the result of paring.

down what is included in this new edition The hope is that these chapters will be the most relevant and useful to both the expert and the neophyte Criminal justice technology will continue to advance and we must keep abreast of new trends
