Musings on Markets: Articles from 2020-2024 Aswath Damodaran, In the ever evolving world of finance, clarity and insight are precious commodities. Enter Professor Aswath Damodaran, the mind behind the influential blog Musings on Markets. This unassuming corner of the internet, launched in 2008, serves as a platform for his insightful commentary on current financial events, valuation methodologies, and emerging trends. Damodaran's ability to break down complex financial concepts into digestible terms has made him a beloved figure among investors and students. Professor Damodaran, or Aswath as he's affectionately known to his readers, isn't your typical Wall Street guru. His writing is refreshingly devoid of jargon, laced with wit, and grounded in a passion for demystifying complex financial concepts. Think of Musings on Markets as your friendly neighborhood professor, patiently explaining the intricate workings of financial markets through clear explanations, insightful analyses, and a healthy dose of real world examples. Aswath Damodaran is a distinguished professor of finance at the Stern School of Business, New York University. Renowned for his groundbreaking work in corporate finance and valuation, Damodaran has been instrumental in shaping the field's methodologies and applications. Born in India, Damodaran pursued his academic journey in the United States, earning his Ph.D. in finance from the University of Michigan. His early career was marked by a deep dive into the intricacies of capital markets and corporate valuation, a fascination that has remained a constant throughout his illustrious career. Damodaran's academic prowess is evident in his extensive publications. He is the author of several highly acclaimed textbooks, including Investment Valuation, Corporate Finance Theory and Practice, and Applied Corporate Finance: A User's Guide. These books are considered essential reading for students, practitioners, and academics alike, providing invaluable insights into the theory and practice of finance. His contributions to the field of finance have not gone unnoticed. Damodaran has been recognized with numerous awards and honors including the Graham and Dodd Award from the Financial Analysts Journal and the Distinguished Scholar Award from the Academy of Financial Management Aswath Damodaran's legacy extends far beyond his academic achievements. His dedication to teaching, research, and public outreach has inspired countless individuals to pursue careers in finance and has significantly advanced the field of corporate valuation.

Movement Nicole Gelinas, 2024-11-05 A gripping account of how the automobile has failed NYC and how mass transit and a revitalized streetscape are vital to its post pandemic recovery. In 1969 as all students of New York City history think they have learned master builder Robert Moses lost his long battle to urbanist Jane Jacobs over his planned Lower Manhattan Expressway. The ten lane elevated expressway would have sliced across SoHo and Little Italy demolishing historic buildings and displacing thousands of families and businesses. Jacobs and her neighbors defeated Moses and as a result New York became the only major American city with no interstate highway running through its core. Like many global cities though New York had spent fifty years during the first half of the twentieth century trying and failing to tame its heavily populated landscape to fit the private automobile. New York has now spent more than fifty years trying to undo those mistakes, wresting back city space for people not cars. Movement New York's Long War to Take Back Its Streets from the Car chronicles the earlier less known battles that preceded the cancellation of the Lower Manhattan Expressway. Jacobs became an example for generations of urban planners but whose example did Jacobs emulate in an earlier victory that saved Washington Square Park. Moses may serve handily as New York's über villain now but who before him was responsible for destroying a critical part of New York's transit system? A well-respected urban writer who has focused on New York's transportation system for more than a decade, author Nicole Gelinas resumes the story where Robert Caro's landmark The Power Broker ended. Movement explores how in the half century leading up to the COVID 19 pandemic New York's re-embrace of its mass transit system and a livable streetscape helped save the city. Gelinas tackles the 1970s environmental movement, the 1980s rebuilding of the subways and more contemporary battles from Mayor Bloomberg's push for more pedestrian plazas and bike lanes in the early 2000s to transportation advocates' protests to prevent traffic deaths in the Mayor de Blasio era of the 2010s to how New York's stewardship of its streets and subways have played a critical role during the 2020 pandemic and subsequent recovery. Introducing a cast of transportation heroes to rival Jane Jacobs, Shirley Hayes, Hazel Henderson, Richard Ravitch, Nilka Martell and puncturing the myth of Moses as New York's anti-hero. Movement explores how New York City has helped redefine what it means to be a global city, not a place that is easy to drive through but a place where people can take transit, walk and bike to work, to school or just for fun.
