Finding Personal Peace

President Henry B. Eyring

Use the guide as you read the conference talk. Record the thoughts and impressions you receive.

The Gift of Peace

How is the peace that Christ gives so different from the peace the world gives?

What have you felt peace in your life?

Why does Christ give us with peace that we keep the commandments?

Do you strive to keep the commandments?

The Lord loved us enough to pay the price of our sins so that we can—through our faith in Him and our repentance, through the effects of His Atonement—have the gift of the peace that provides all understanding in this life and with Him eternally.

Lesson Outline

Below is a lesson outline for the talk's main ideas in PDF. The outline is comprehensive and includes several different questions you could ask and questions you might ask using the key terms. Answer the last question and discuss for your audience.

Correction Officer; a Complete Study Guide for Scoring High on the Exam David Reuben

Turner, 1966 Police United States. National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals, 1973 This report provides suggestions for overall improvement in delivery of police services for greater protection against crime The National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals considers the patrolman the primary force in reducing and preventing crime and thus directs its report recommendations toward increasing police effectiveness

Suggestions for improvements in police functions are presented in the areas of community planning and organization technology and support services fiscal management and coordination with other criminal justice agencies These proposals appear in the form of more than 120 specific standards and recommendations that spell out where why and how these improvements can and should be made in the police segment of the criminal justice system Report on police is a reference work for the practitioner patrolman to police chief as well as for the interested layman Before implementing any of the changes advocated police departments are advised to detail the legal limits of police authority and develop guidelines for the exercise of that authority In order to improve cooperation between the police and the community it is suggested that police agencies establish a specialized unit for maintaining communication with citizens Each police department should encourage and participate in neighborhood security programs and establish procedures to facilitate processing of complaints

Suggestions for more effective utilization of manpower include continued consolidation stricter personnel requirements increased employee benefits and the employment of more women minorities and civilians in police work Resources in Education, 1992

Reframing Police Education and Freedom in America Martin Alan Greenberg, Beth Allen

Easterling, 2023-09-15 This book untangles the components of police education and advocates a robust community based training model with significant civilian oversight The recommended approach recognizes that the citizenry needs to be included in the provision of basic police education for it is they who must both support and be served by their police The police must be role models for society demonstrating that freedom and rights come with obligations both to the community as a whole and to individuals in need within that community Ultimately the quality of police training and the public's safety depend not only on the leadership of police executives as well as the quality of educational institutions and police candidates but also on the building of a community's trust in its police The issues of police recruitment education and retention have greater consequence in an era when protests and other signs of negativity surround law enforcement Several incidents including most notably George Floyd's murder by police have sparked new training initiatives regarding police de-escalation and community engagement At the same time the proliferation of gun violence and a contentious political climate have led some officers to refrain from undertaking proactive types of policing In this context reform of the police education system is urgent This book examines police training at all levels of government local regional state and federal In addition citizen participation programs including the role of the media and programs for furthering law related education LRE are highlighted The proposed police education model recognizes that ordinary members of the American public need to contribute to the provision of basic police education for it is they who must both support and be served by their police The focus is on teaching a guardian style of policing at the local level Police education would combine higher education necessary practical proficiencies and intensive field experiences through a gradual level of greater responsibility likely extending over a 2 plus year period for trainees with less than a year of previous college credits This book will be of interest to a wide range of audiences such as law enforcement professionals and trainers including those in executive development programs in police departments community leaders scholars and policy experts who specialize in policing concerned citizens and students of criminal justice especially those interested in police organization and management criminal justice policy and the historical development of police
