

Byo U' City → not.

Question 3:

In lines 25–31, the narrator muses over, then rejects, the notion that:

Merchant & Merchant played an important role in the building of Bombay.

he started paying attention to Bombay at a young age.

his anticipated birth was one of the causes of the rush to finish the building of Bombay.

Bombay had been a gigantic building site in the years before he was born.

In reality that Bombay was almost brand-new when I knew it; what's more, my parents' construction firm of Merchant & Merchant had been prominent in its making. In the ten years before my own coming into the world, the city had been a gigantic building site; as if it were in a hurry to become, as if it knew it had to provide itself in finished condition by the time I was able to start paying attention to it . . . No, no, I don't really think along such solipsistic lines. I'm not over-attached to history, or Bombay. Me, I'm the under-attached type.

But let me confess that, even as a child, I was insanely jealous of the city in which I was raised, because it was my parents' other love. They loved each other (good), they loved me (very good), and they loved her (not so good). Bombay was my rival. It was on account of their romance with the city that they drew up that weekly rota (list) of shared parental responsibilities. When my mother wasn't with me—when I was riding on my father's shoulders, or staring,
