Viral Challenge Science Experiments 2025:

Animal-borne viral disease: Pathogenesis, Innate immunity, Acquired immunity, and Novel vaccine development Lei Tan, Fulong Nan, Shen Yang, 2025-11-24 Currently animal borne viral diseases seriously threaten the development of the world's breeding industry especially in economically underdeveloped regions. The diseases cause tens of billions of dollars in economic losses every year. The pathogen comprised avian diseases, swine diseases, cattle diseases, sheep and goat diseases etc. Research from revealing the mechanisms of pathogenic infection to vaccine prevention of diseases can provide beneficial effects on the control of animal borne infectious diseases. In this Research Topic we will conduct a comprehensive study on the role of the activation forms occurrence and development of innate immunity and acquired immunity in the infection of animal borne infectious disease pathogens. In addition, novel vaccines for the specific pathogens were attempted to develop. The purpose of exploration is to better understand the pathogenic mechanisms of animal borne infectious diseases and develop effective biological products. The goal of this research topic is to provide a forum to advance research on the infection mechanisms of animal borne infectious disease pathogens and the development of novel vaccines against these animal borne diseases. Subtopics focusing on animal viruses include but are not limited to:

- 1 Pathogenesis of animal borne infectious disease pathogens such as avian influenza, Newcastle disease, African swine fever, Foot and mouth disease, Porcine epidemic diarrhea, peste des petits ruminants, infectious bronchitis, avian infectious bursal disease, infectious laryngotracheitis, Marek's disease, avian leukemia etc.
- 2 Cellular and humoral immune responses to the pathogens of animal borne infectious diseases
- 3 The role of the pattern recognition receptor PRR of the dendritic cells in the recognition of pathogens
- 4 Activation of immune cells and cell signal transduction induced by pathogens
- 5 Immunosuppressive diseases and immune evasion
- 6 Novel approaches to vaccine development include structure based immunogen design, gene based vaccine platforms and the formulation of recombinant antigens with potent adjuvants

The application of new technologies such as new vaccines, therapeutic cytokines and antibodies, and antiviral drugs in the prevention and treatment of animal infectious diseases Guoxin Li, Lingxue Yu, Jin Cui, 2025-12-05 The outbreak of the epidemic has continuously refreshed human understanding of various pathogens and the pandemic of infectious diseases has caused more serious damage to human public health and socio economic development. Up to now there is no specific antiviral drug for most viral infections and vaccination is the excellent weapon to effectively control epidemics and even eliminate infectious diseases. However, due to the strong mutation ability of viruses especially RNA viruses and the insufficient research on the pathogenic mechanism and immune mechanism of viral infections, the application of traditional vaccine technology may not be effective in dealing with new pathogens with no characteristics. In addition, traditional vaccines also have disadvantages such as high preparation costs, long research and development cycles.

and may not induce protective responses Based on the above facts establishing a new vaccine technology and a universal vaccine technology platform that can quickly develop and produce a large number of affordable vaccines has become an urgent research topic to be solved In recent years with the continuous development of science and technology various new technologies have developed rapidly This Research Topic will focus on the widespread application of new technologies such as targeted attenuated vaccine technology genetic engineering vaccines peptide antigen vaccines viral vector vaccines nucleic acid vaccine technology new adjuvant technologies the development of therapeutic cytokines and antibodies as well as antiviral drugs providing new hope and choices for the prevention and treatment of various animal diseases We welcome you to provide relevant research articles comments and original research The Japan Science Review, 1962

SARS-CoV-2 Vaccines Beyond the Pandemic Era Ritthideach Yorsaeng, Farid Rahimi, Shisan Bao, Amornphat Kitro, 2025-11-25 SARS CoV 2 or COVID 19 vaccines were developed rapidly within one year after the emergence of the COVID 19 pandemic The first generation of COVID 19 vaccines was based on the ancestral or wild type strain which could reduce the risk of life threatening infections Notably SARS CoV 2 genomic variants with altered surface antigens did not emerge until many months into the pandemic after massive viral replication To maintain the integrity of their genome coronaviruses use a specialized RNA proofreading mechanism that excises misincorporated nucleotides from the nascent RNA by the NSP14 NSP10 complex containing an exonuclease domain As a result we have seen various variants of the virus since the disease s outbreak some of which are highly contagious and or capable of evading immunity such as the Omicron B 1 1 529 variant Additionally it is important to note that vaccine induced immunity can wane gradually leading to reduced protection Before the second generation of COVID 19 vaccines e g bivalent the vaccines against the original strain were used as boosters While these boosters can mitigate the disease severity they may not sufficiently protect against infection with SARS CoV 2 variants of concern particularly new subvariants of Omicron Considering the evolving nature of the pandemic what is the next step in COVID 19 vaccine development beyond the first generation Even though most of the global population is no longer na ve to SARS CoV 2 and despite the World Health Organization s declaration of the end of COVID 19 as a Public Health Emergency of International Concern the risk of emergence of new variants that cause high case surges and high fatality remain The use strategies of the vaccine have changed and are adapted continuously to the evolution of the virus and population immunity This Research Topic is dedicated to exploring the second generation of COVID 19 vaccines e g
