Balancing theory with practice this book looks at the human side of managing change and creativity treating them as interdependent aspects of management and organizations. PC World, 2009 The Hollywood Reporter, 2009 Closing the Innovation Gap: Reigniting the Spark of Creativity in a Global Economy Judy Estrin, 2008-09-14 Named one of the Best Books on Innovation 2008 by BusinessWeek magazine. Does innovation come about by luck or hard work? Is it a flash of inspiration or the result of careful management? Are innovators born or taught? In Closing the Innovation Gap Judith Estrin provides the answers to these and other questions critical to our future. A technology pioneer and business leader Estrin describes what will be required to reignite the spark of innovation in business, education and government ensuring our long term success in the global economy. Innovation does not occur in a vacuum. It grows from the interplay of three drivers of creative change: research, development and application. Estrin calls this dynamic the Innovation Ecosystem, explaining how these communities work together to create sustainable innovation. Closing the Innovation Gap covers America's role as the primary driver of global innovation after World War II, explaining what worked, the subsequent decline and how to regain traction. The fundamentals required to nurture innovation including five simple but important values for transforming your organization into a force for productive change. How you can ensure that your business benefits from a thriving Innovation Ecosystem. Examples from both established companies, start-ups and research labs that illustrate the power of innovation in providing a decisive business advantage and foundation for growth. Leaders in business and public service must think beyond short term financial results and understand the impact of globalization and an accelerated pace of change on future economic growth says Estrin. With
