Morality And Architecture Revisited:

Morality and Architecture Revisited David Watkin, 2001-08 When Morality and Architecture was first published in 1977 it received passionate praise and equally passionate criticism. An editorial in Apollo entitled The Time Bomb claimed that it deserved to become a set book in art school and University art history departments and the Times Literary Supplement savaged it as an example of that kind of vindictiveness of which only Christians seem capable. Here for the first time is the story of the book's impact. In writing his groundbreaking polemic David Watkin had taken on the entire modernist establishment tracing it back to Pugin, Viollet le Duc, Corbusier and others who claimed that their chosen style had to be truthful and rational reflecting society's needs. Any critic of this style was considered antisocial and immoral. Only covertly did the giants of the architectural establishment support the author. Watkin gives an overview of what has happened since the book's publication arguing that many of the old fallacies still persist. This return to the attack is a revelation for anyone concerned with architecture's past and future. Morality and Architecture Revisited contains the entire text of the book Morality and Architecture plus additional material by David Watkin on the controversy that the book created. Morality and Architecture David Watkin, 1977 Morality and architecture has been described variously as brave, mischievous, brilliant, reactionary and a time bomb. It is undoubtedly controversial, a frank and at times fearlessly polemical exposure of progressivist ideology in architectural criticism.

Morality and Architecture Revisited David Watkin, 2001 When Morality and Architecture was first published in 1977 it received passionate praise and equally passionate criticism. An editorial in Apollo entitled The Time Bomb claimed that it deserved to become a set book in art school and university art history departments whilst the Times Literary Supplement savaged it as an example of that kind of vindictiveness of which only Christians seem capable. In writing his polemic David Watkin, a young don at Peterhouse, Cambridge, had the temerity to take on the entire modernist architectural establishment then at the height of its power and throwing up brutal buildings in the hearts of our communities. Watkin showed how such an approach was rooted in a long theoretical tradition stretching back to Pugin, Viollet le Duc and Corbusier who claimed that their chosen style had to be truthful and rational reflecting the needs of contemporary society. Any critic of such ethical, mechanical and populist fallacies was labelled anti-social and immoral. The book rapidly became a cult text. And here it is again with, for the first time, the story of its impact. Only covertly did the giants of the architectural establishment men like Sir John Summerson, Sir Denys Lasdun, Sir Ove Arup, Sir Karl Popper and Sir Ernst Gombrich support the author. Watkin goes on to give an overview of what has happened since and summarizes the situation today arguing that many of the old fallacies still persist. This return to the attack is a revelation for anyone concerned with the past, current and future direction of architecture. Architecture and Its Ethical Dilemmas Nicholas Ray, 2007-05-07 Ethical issues both practical and philosophical are constantly arising in architectural work. This volume relates a broad range of theoretical questions to dilemmas encountered in practice informed by contributions from many different disciplines.

Architecture Depends Jeremy Till, 2009 Architects however tend to deny this fearing contingency and preferring to pursue perfection Sacred Text -- Sacred Space ,2011-11-11 This book is not designed to define the sacred It is rather a bringing together of case histories a rich varied collection from medieval early modern and nineteenth century contexts in England and Wales that goes beyond familiar paradigms to explore the dynamic protean interaction in different times and places between sacred space and text Essentially an interdisciplinary enterprise it focuses a range of historical and critical methodologies on that complex process of transformation and transmission whereby spiritual intuitions experiences and teachings are made palpable in art and architecture poetry and prayer in histories scriptures and liturgies even landscapes So the sacred variously constructed and inscribed makes itself felt on the pulse is a presence a voice even now not stilled

Summerson and Hitchcock Frank E. Salmon,2006 Publisher description An Architecture of Care in South Africa Nicholas Coetzer,2023-07-10 Architects care It is foundational and germane to the discipline and practice of architecture This book charts the way the Arts and Crafts Movement established the moral ethos of an architecture of care that not only remains embedded in current discourse and practice but also that is being given a more vocal presence in our climate crisis and social justice world By way of genealogical strands the book charts the origin of architecture of care ideas in the Arts and Crafts Movement and their impact on the other progeny architectural projects in South Africa over the past hundred years These range from the translation of inglenooks into an armature architecture of Dignified Places in Cape Town s townships to the ethos of upliftment and care that translates from Octavia Hill through to correcting building regulations and eventually finding a less moralising and more transformative impact in the Hostels to Homes project The birth of design through context and climate in the Arts and Crafts Movement is demonstrated by the shift in South African houses from boxy cottages to solar and nature oriented ribbon plans as demonstrated through the work of Helmut Stauch and Norman Eaton The dislocation of Arts and Crafts ideas to the Cape also demonstrated a limit to the valorising of vernacular architecture and its against globalization building materials whereby English architects promoted Cape Dutch settler architecture and denigrated African vernacular architecture As a final genealogical strand the book demonstrates the coherence of moral instrumentality with the animism and affects potential of handmade buildings Written for academics students and researchers interested in architectural history it is an eye opening investigation into the role of architecture in society

The Architects' Journal ,2001 A History of Western Architecture David Watkin,2005 The history of Western architecture from the earliest times in Mesopotamia and Egypt to the dramatic impact of CAD on architectural practice at the beginning of the 21st century Reassessing Nikolaus Pevsner Peter Draper,2017-07-05 Nikolaus Pevsner was one of the most important and influential art historians of the twentieth century He opened up new areas of enquiry in the history of art revolutionising architectural studies in England and playing a key role in establishing the discipline of design history Through his lectures and broadcasts as well as the remarkable volumes in The Buildings of England series which made him a household name he did much to encourage greater interest in and understanding of art and architecture among a wide public This wide ranging collection of essays based on papers delivered at the conference held at Birkbeck in celebration of the centenary of Pevsner's birth offers the first sustained critical assessment of Pevsner's achievements With contributions by leading international scholars the volume brings together a wealth of new material on Pevsner and his intellectual background both in Germany in the late 1920s and 1930s and in England particularly in the 1940s and 1950s

The Literary Review, 2006 Augustus Welby Pugin, Designer of the British Houses of Parliament Christabel

Powell, 2006 Much of the study of the nineteenth century architect Augustus Welby Pugin has focused on his architecture and design Pugin himself believed that his strongest influence lay in his writing He played an important role in the nineteenth century religious revival because of his views as a liturgical architect

The Persistence of the Classical Frank E.

Salmon, 2008-12-15 In this beautifully illustrated volume fifteen distinguished writers on architecture mark the retirement of Professor David Watkin from the University of Cambridge Linked by the common theme of classicism the chapters are divided into three sections The first is concerned with architectural ideas and includes essays on Renaissance interpretations of Vitruvius Roman Catholic Chapels in post Reformation London and architectural writers John Summerson and Hope Bagenal The central section deals with aspects of eighteenth and nineteenth century Neo classicism and includes new work on Marie Joseph Peyre Charles Barry and C R Cockerell The final section is devoted to studies of classicism and the Picturesque in the twentieth century

Environmental Dilemmas Robert Mugerauer, Lynne Manzo, 2008-05-18 Because many people and ecosystems share or constitute any given place they all have a stake in the outcome of what any of us do in regard to environmental problems It is not surprising that issues are hotly contested given the many divergent interests needs and preferences of a community's members much less those of people downstream who are affected by the consequences of our actions or of outside parties who play a part including those who would speak on behalf of the ecosystems Thus we not only must make careful individual decisions concerning the environment but need to improve the way we operate socially especially given the roles and responsibilities we have as environmental professionals private sector developers public policy makers and staff or engaged citizens To aid in resolving our environmental dilemmas Mugerauer and Manzo focus on the decision making process Their goal is to help readers become more aware of the worldviews beliefs and values that enter into the decisions they make and to better resolve differences with others To guide readers in thinking about their own positions and how to approach ethical decisions Mugerauer and Manzo employ a number of exercises and cases to investigate the choices and issues that different stakeholders face for example concerning sustainability Additionally the book presents alternatives in terms of formalized ethical principles the major ethical theories and professional codes of ethics

Victorian Architecture James Stevens Cull, 2007 Although more than a century has passed since the end of the Victorian era the great achievements of the period 1837-1901 are grossly undervalued Phrases such as Victorian monstrosity
