New Jewish Identities Zvi Y. Gitelman, Barry Alexander Kosmin, András Kovács, 2003-07-30 A unique collection of essays that deal with the intriguing and complex problems connected to the question of Jewish identity in the contemporary world Based on a conference held in Budapest Hungary in July 2001 it analyzes and compares how Jews conceive of their Jewishness Do they see it in mostly religious cultural or ethnic terms What are the policy implications of these views and how have they been evolving What do they portend for the future of world Jewry The authors present new data from west European and post Communist countries Hungary Moldova Poland Russia Ukraine and re-interpret data from other European countries as well as from Israel and the United States making this a truly comprehensive comparative and contemporary work

The Jews of Contemporary Post-Soviet States Vladimir Ze'ev Khanin, 2023-10-24 Since the end of the USSR post-Soviet Jewry has evolved into an ethnically and culturally diverse Russian speaking community This process is taking place against the gradual inflation of a collective identity among Russian speaking Jews that survived the first post-Soviet decade The infrastructure for this new entity is provided by new local or ethno-civic groups of East European Ashkenazi Jewry with specific communal subcultural and ethno-political identities Ukrainian Moldavian or Russian Jews e.g. These communities demonstrate a changing balance of identification between their countries of residence and the transnational Russian Jewish community and they absorb a significant number of persons of non-Jewish and ethnically heterogeneous origins as well This book discusses identity community modes migration dynamics socioeconomic status attitudes toward Israel social and political environments and other parameters framing these trends using the results of a comprehensive sociological study of the extended Jewish population conducted in 2019-2020 by this author in the five former Soviet Union countries Russia Ukraine Belarus Moldova and Kazakhstan     A History of Displaced Knowledge: Austrian Refugees from National Socialism in Australia Philipp Strobl, 2025-04-07 This book follows ideas and knowledge that migrated in the cultural baggage of Austrian refugees who fled to Australia in 1938 and 1939 because of National Socialism By telling and comparing the stories of twenty six different lives it highlights the processes of acquisition transportation translation and adaption of ideas knowledge and cultural capital This provides a unique and colourful insight into the impact of a group of refugees on their host society over several decades As the book shows there were many different ways in which displaced people relied upon their social and cultural capital to first escape their oppressive homeland and then build new lives Once they had arrived in Australia they used very different approaches to negotiate and promote their knowledge and to exercise agency     The Changing Jewish Community Stuart Schoenfeld, York University (Toronto, Ont.). Ethnic Research Programme, 1983     Mapping Jewish Culture in Europe Today Rebecca Schischa, 2002     Alcohol and the Jews Charles R.
