Navigating Academia Writing Supporting Genres Vol 4:

Navigating Academia John M. Swales, Christine B. Feak, 2011 Volume 4 of the revised and expanded edition of English in Today's Research World Teaching and Researching Writing Ken Hyland, 2015-11-19 This third edition of Teaching and Researching Writing continues to build upon the previous editions' work of providing educators and practitioners in applied linguistics with a clearly written and complete guide to writing research and teaching. The text explores both theoretical and conceptual questions, grapples with key issues in the field today, and demonstrates the dynamic relationship between research and teaching methods and practice. This revised third edition has been reorganized to incorporate new topics, including discussions of technology, identity, and error correction, as well as new chapters to address the innovative directions the field has taken since the previous edition's publication. Boxes throughout, including Concepts and Quotes, help to both reinforce readers' understanding of the topics covered by highlighting key ideas and figures in the field, while the updated glossary and resource sections allow readers to further investigate areas of interest. This updated edition of Teaching and Researching Writing is the ideal resource for language teachers, practitioners, and researchers to better understand and apply writing research theories, methods, and practices.

Academic Publishing: Issues and Challenges in the Construction of Knowledge Ken Hyland, 2016-02-28 Ken Hyland provides an authoritative discussion of key aspects of writing for academic publication. What are the issues surrounding particular academic genres? What are the processes experienced by scholars writing in these genres on the way to publication? The book explores some of the biggest issues and challenges in academic publication, including the impact of English as a global academic language, the growth of the assessment culture surrounding publication, the practices of knowledge construction at institutional and local levels, the emergence of Open Access and social media publishing. As well as outlining implications for pedagogy in the English language classroom, Hyland fully evaluates the social practices surrounding knowledge creation and the political implications of global publishing. Ken Hyland's book is an important contribution to the literature on academic publishing. It is accessibly written; key concepts and themes are well explained, and the issues that are discussed are clearly connected to the challenges faced by academic writers. Brian Paltridge, Professor of TESOL, University of Sydney. Ken Hyland is the Head of the Centre for Applied English Studies and holds the Chair of Applied Linguistics at the University of Hong Kong.
