Decolonising Journalism Education in South Africa Ms Zubeida Jaffer ,Prof. Ylva Rodny-Gumede ,Dr Mvuso Ponono ,Prof. Colin Chasi ,2021-12-20 With 342 years of colonialism and apartheid in South Africa a book of this calibre is essential to contribute to scholarly debates on the decolonisation of the media After the democratic dispensation in 1994 there was a narrow pursuit of transformation and media freedom while neglecting decolonisation patriarchal tendencies and the plight of black women journalists who are often vilified while discharging their duties It was two decades after democracy that the RhodesMustFall movement which later evolved into FeesMustFall movement reignited debates on decoloniality in the academia Moreover the book is published during the second wave of FeesMustFall student protests and the demand for decolonised free education is inevitable as no permanent solution to student funding crisis was crafted In the same vein the book advocates for decolonised pedagogy in universities including journalism curriculum That ownership of the media is still skewed towards white and with only few black companies gradually joining the industry also brings into doubt media freedom editorial independence ethics and integrity among media practitioners Therefore the decoloniality movement seeks to confront these structural challenges head on via dialogue to ensure the integrity of the journalism profession Decolonising journalism in South Africa is published at a time in which journalism serves a watchdog and a critique of a democratic government and needs to follow a bottom up social justice approach and become a voice to the voiceless Therefore this book seeks to revolutionise the media in a way that even the language of reporting of certain issues needs to be changed to a balanced kind of reporting characterised by principles of no fear or favour
