The Apology Impulse Cary Cooper, Sean O'Meara, 2019-10-03 WINNER American Book Fest Best Book Award 2020 Communications Public Relations WINNER NYC Big Book Award 2020 Marketing and Public Relations. Saying sorry is in crisis. On one hand there are anxious PR aficionados and social media teams dishing out apologies with alarming frequency. On the other there are people and organizations who have done truly terrible things issuing much delayed statements of mild regret. We have become addicted to apologies but immune from saying sorry. In January 2018 there were 35 public apologies from high profile organizations and individuals. That's more than one per day. Between them in 2017 the likes of Facebook, Mercedes-Benz and United Airlines issued over 2,000 words of apologies for their transgressions. Alarming, the word sorry didn't appear once. This perfectly timed book examines the psychology, motivations and even the economic rationale of giving an apology in the age of outrage culture and on demand contrition. It reveals the tricks and techniques we all use to evade, reframe and divert from what we did and demonstrates how professionals do it best. Providing lessons for businesses and organizations you'll find out how to give meaningful apologies and know when to say sorry or not say it at all. The Apology Impulse is the perfect playbook for anyone from social media executive through to online influencers and CEOs who apologise way too much and say sorry far too infrequently.

search like click and purchase algorithms determine the news we get the ads we see the information accessible to us and even who our friends are These complex configurations not only form knowledge and social relationships in the digital and physical world but also determine who we are and who we can be both on and offline Algorithms create and recreate us using our data to assign and reassign our gender race sexuality and citizenship status They can recognize us as celebrities or mark us as terrorists In this era of ubiquitous surveillance contemporary data collection entails more than gathering information about us Entities like Google Facebook and the NSA also decide what that information means constructing our worlds and the identities we inhabit in the process We have little control over who we algorithmically are Our identities are made useful not for us but for someone else Through a series of entertaining and engaging examples John Cheney Lippold draws on the social constructions of identity to advance a new understanding of our algorithmic identities We Are Data will inspire those who want to wrest back some freedom in our increasingly surveilled and algorithmically constructed world
