Clairvaux's Liber visionum et miraculorum Clarevallensium and a fourth examines the Historia Gaufredi Ducis and its outsized impact on the history of the ritual of dubbing. Two papers address royal and ecclesiastical justice in mid-thirteenth century France through meticulous work with archival sources; they respectively consider the case of Geoffroy de Milly and limits of sovereign authority and enquetes as a technique of power. Further topics include the emerging geography of purgatory in the imagination of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries; the different dimensions of medieval institutional culture as seen in the intersection of earthly and angelic power in Angevin England; placed in dialogue with American medieval historiography and the evolving historiographical treatment of men of the Church employed as trusted administrators by Italian communes. The volume concludes with two essays on significant moments in the history of American medieval studies: examinations of the publication history of Evelyn Faye Wilson's Stella Maris of John of Garland and of the life scholarship and legacy of Bennett David Hill round out the volume.

The Religious Reuse of Roman Structures in Early Medieval England Tyler Bell, 2005. This work examines how and why Roman structures commonly villas, forts, and bathhouses were reinvented as religious centres in the Post Roman period. Two principal lines of enquiry are pursued: the relationship of post-Roman burials with Roman buildings and the relationship between early churches and Roman buildings. The aims of this research were to establish a unified corpus around which the study of these type sites may be pursued; to present a balanced, judicious and informed consideration of the problem of continuity; and to critically assess various models for the progress from secular structures to sacred sites and to demonstrate that the physical remains of Roman structures had a significant impact on the religious landscape of Early Medieval England.
