Mincy,1994 Examines mentoring programs aimed at helping young African American males Social Work With African American Males Waldo E. Johnson Jr.,2010-05-26 African American males have never fared as poorly as they do currently on a number of social indicators They are less likely to complete high school than their white male and female or African American female peers they are more likely to exhibit depressive symptoms and they have fewer sanctioned coping strategies Arguably no other group in American society has been more maligned regularly faced with tremendous odds that uniquely threaten their existence When they do receive education mental health and physical health services it is often in correctional settings They are marginalized in public policies on secondary and higher education attainment marriage and parental expectations public welfare health housing and community development Yet they remain overlooked in health and social science research and are stereotyped in the popular media Taking a step back from the traditionally myopic view of African American males as criminals and hustlers this groundbreaking book provides a more nuanced and realistic portrait of their experiences in the world Chapter authors both established and emerging scholars of social problems relevant to African Americans offer a comprehensive overview of the social and economic data on black males to date and the significant issues that affect them from adolescence to adulthood Via in depth qualitative interviews as well as comprehensive surveys and data sets their physical mental and spiritual health and emerging family roles are considered within both individual and communal contexts Chapters cover health issues such as HIV and depression fatherhood and family roles suicide violence academic achievement and incarceration With original research and a special eye toward enhancing social work and social welfare intervention practice with this often overlooked subpopulation of American society this volume will be of great interest to researchers interested in African American issues students practitioners and policy makers Federal Probation ,1994 Nurturing Young Black Males ,1994 What about The Boys? Wayne Martino,Bob Meyenn,2001-10-16 How can teachers address the challenge of educating boys for life in the 21st century What aspects of schooling are particularly problematic for boys How do issues of class race and sexuality impact upon boys educational experiences This edited collection brings together leading researchers from Australia United Kingdom and the United States to explore issues of boys schooling and masculinities within the context of the current concern about the education of boys The contributors draw on detailed empirical research to highlight some important issues that are not addressed in public debates about boys in the media Chapter topics include international perspectives on debates about boys teaching boys programs for boys in schools boys and risk taking boys and discipline boys and sexuality Afro American boys indigenous boys in Australian schools boys and reading boys and maths boys dance and sport boys and science girls talk about boys The book will be important and compelling reading for all teachers concerned with the education of boys The Expanding Boundaries of Black Politics Georgia A. Persons, 2011-12-31 This volume joins the preceding volumes in this distinguished series in presenting contemporary research by leading political scientists addressing topics of interest to those concerned with African American affairs. It captures the expanding boundaries of black politics and the persistent interests of the black community at large. The anchoring symposium The Expanding Boundaries of Black Politics presents the scholarship of a cadre of young black political scientists actively engaged in the critical tasks of moving forward the study of black politics. Their concerns include expanding the boundaries of black politics along the lines of epistemology and methodology especially in regard to core issues and areas within this field. In an introductory essay by Todd Shaw the work of these scholars is situated within the context of temporal shifts in scholarly emphases. Overlapping issues and concerns across time as well as black political scholarship as defined in the field since its beginning are addressed. The second part of this volume entitled Maximizing the Black Vote: Recognizing the Limits of Electoral Politics concentrates on serious lingering social concerns. These include the policy significance of black mayors affecting the concomitant impact of the black vote the boundaries being pushed concerning the conjunction of black theology and sexual identity a gendered analysis of familial policies and the deepening social and economic plight of young black males including felon disfranchisement. The Expanding Boundaries of Black Politics carries forth the search for an understanding of the relationship between religion the black church and black political behavior cross racial group coalitions as concerns matters of immigration growing multiculturalism and the impact on black politics maximizing the impact of the black vote focusing on voting rights enforcement the black vote in presidential elections and the voice of the Congressional Black Caucus in American foreign policy and persistent social inequalities especially as it concerns ideology federalism and social welfare policy.

An Introduction to Research on the Developmental Needs of Young Black Males Barry T. Malin, 1994 The African American Male School Adaptability Crisis \(Amsac\) Joe L. Rempson, 2016-03-12 The African American Male School Adaptability Crisis AMSAC cannot be solved by the school alone. It is a race problem which can only be solved if we black males provide the leadership in tackling our three major demons which now mainly account for the problem. IQ lag fatherless families crime AMSAC had its origin about 100 years ago when after the death of Washington DuBois gained ascendancy in our African American Garden of Eden and replaced Washingtons brains property and character gospel with a civil rights agenda. That agenda has led to a civil rights fixation and our second bondage Victimology wherein being the victim has become part of our core identity and made us psychological slaves. Rather than being proud and self reliant disproportionately we have come to see ourselves as victims who are entitled to system help and special treatment. This bondage and it is a bondage vitiates our manhood and the energy and drive required to pursue the adaptation pathway paved by Washington but demonized by DuBois. Return to that pathway and we can confront and conquer AMSAC and our three major demons. Guided by history and the research evidence this book details how its 20 chapters make for long reading but just by reading the first and last chapters you can get the message The motto of the proposed evidence based experimental program the African American Male Career Pathway Program AMCAP A special appeal is made to black athletes and entertainers to help propagate this motto and support the proposed high school student clubs Student AMCAPs in its implementation

Although the actual number of African American men enrolled in the nation s colleges and universities has been increasing slightly during the 1990s both the percentage and the number are disturbingly low and small enough to be perceived as fragile Given that frailty higher education administrators concerned about this issue are seeking ways to nurture and retain those African American men who are successful in coming to the campus This volume offers a look at the status of black men in the college environment and provides and number of important suggestions of ways in which higher education administrators and faculty can work together to enhance the probability that more African American men will successfully matriculate

The State of the African American Male Eboni M. Zamani-Gallaher,Vernon C.
