The Handbook of Religion and Communication presents a detailed investigation of the complex interaction between media and religion offering diverse perspectives on how both traditional and new media sources continue to impact religious belief and practice across multiple faiths around the globe. Contributions from leading international scholars address key themes such as the changing role of religious authority in the digital age, the role of media in cultural shifts away from religious institutions and the ways modern technologies have transformed how religion is communicated and portrayed. Divided into five parts, the Handbook opens with a state of the art overview of the subject's intellectual landscape introducing the historical background, theoretical foundations and major academic approaches to communication media and religion. Subsequent sections focus on institutional and functional perspectives, theological and cultural approaches and new approaches in digital technologies. The essays provide insight into a wide range of topics including religious use of media, religious identity, audience gratification, religious broadcasting, religious content in entertainment films and religion news reporting about religion, race and gender, the sex religion matrix, religious crisis communication, public relations and advertising, televangelism, pastoral ministry, death and the media, online religion, future directions in religious communication and more. Explores the increasing role of media in creating religious identity and communicating religious experience. Discusses the development and evolution of the communication practices of various religious bodies. Covers all major media sources including radio, television, film, press, digital, online content and social media platforms. Presents key empirical research, real world case studies and illustrative examples throughout. Encompasses a variety of perspectives including individual and institutional actors, academic and theoretical areas and different forms of communication media.
