Sex, Love, and Migration Alexia Bloch, 2017-12-15 Sex Love and Migration goes beyond a common narrative of women's exploitation as a feature of migration in the early twenty first century a story that features young women from poor countries who cross borders to work in low paid and often intimate labor Alexia Bloch argues that the mobility of women is marked not only by risks but also by personal and social transformation as migration fundamentally reshapes women's emotional worlds and aspirations Bloch documents how as women have crossed borders between the former Soviet Union and Turkey since the early 1990s they have forged new forms of intimacy in their households in Moldova Ukraine Belarus and Russia but also in Istanbul where they often work for years on end Sex Love and Migration takes as its subject the lives of post Soviet migrant women employed in three distinct spheres sex work the garment trade and domestic work Bloch challenges us to decouple images of women on the move from simple assumptions about danger victimization and trafficking She redirects our attention to the aspirations and lives of women who despite myriad impediments move between global capitalist centers and their home communities

Mediterranean Encounters in the City Michela Ardizzoni, Valerio Ferme, 2015-12-03 This book documents and analyzes how the contemporary Mediterranean city manages and negotiates its identity as a result of recent reconfigurations in its cultural religious and social landscape The events of Sept 11 2001 have recast difference as a central trope of identification in urban borderland settings unleashing heated debates about cultural convergences and animating anxieties about an arguable clash of civilizations in modern cities These emerging uncertainties have also grown stronger as the homogenizing forces of globalization unsettle essential principles of the nation state and nationhood and render fixed perceptions of distinctive and singular people and cultures more tenuous Recent scholarship and public discourse have accordingly framed discussions of these encounters around concerns of geopolitical security and international policy Unfortunately framed within these terms our understanding of how various groups within the Mediterranean metropolis deal with the intensification of difference as a lived experience has remained regrettably thin This volume transcends this limitation and explores new interdisciplinary research paradigms that will help us gain a comprehensive perspective on how complex macro and micro tensions contradictions and similarities are negotiated in building urban identities in the Mediterranean basin The contributors to this volume explore the multi faceted nature of Mediterranean cities and engage a critical discussion of identity production and consumption in the Mediterranean basin By spanning two centuries and examining both the Northern and Southern shores of the Mediterranean the chapters in this book provide a broad and comprehensive investigation of the ways in which recent cultural productions have framed and re imagined the Mediterranean city as a locus of departures arrivals and contested belonging By focusing on cinema photography new media magazines music and literature as different stages for the performative representation of

Mediterraneity the authors highlight the vibrancy of the intercultural discourses taking place along the shores of the mare nostrum and provide new perspectives from which to explore the relationship between North and South East and West
